TASCHEREAU RESIGNS AS PREMIER

Landon Is To Be U.S. Candidate

Expected on All Sides He Will Be Named By Republicans For Presidency This Evening

Knox May Be His Running Mate

Associated Press
Cleveland, Ohio, June 11. - With platform troubles delaying matters, the Republican National Convention recessed shortly after 3 p.m. E.S.T. until 7 o'clock. Then, unless a protracted argument makes it impossible, the presidential ticket is expected to be named soon after the platform is approved.

As the leaders struggled this afternoon to compose platform difficulties, nomination of Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the presidency was conceded on all sides.

Both Col. Frank Knox of Chicago and Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan were mentioned as must likely for the vice-presidential nomination; but Mr. Vandenberg had said repeatedly he would not accept.

He urged Col. Knox for the nomination.

They and all the other erstwhile rivals of the "sunflower candidate" declined even to have their names presented for President.

"CANDIDATE IS PLATFORM"
Senator William E. Borah, who has been a big figure in all the proceedings, would not say whether he would campaign for the ticket.

He seemed satisfied with the platform draft, as it stood before the debate—but said cryptically, "The candidate is the platform."

This forenoon's session had to be recessed until mid-afternoon as the long awaited platform was not ready.

CRISIS AND HARMONY

Col. Frank Knox released his delegates shortly after Senators Vandenberg of Michigan, Borah of Idaho and Dickinson of Iowa had done the same. The tenor of their assertions was similar, in the words of Knox:

"The crisis in national affairs demands complete harmony."

John Hamilton, the energetic Landon manager, smilingly declined to talk about the vice-presidential nomination.

The principal talk heard was Knox. His long time friend and fellow newspaperman in youth, Vandenberg, remarked to reporters he "rather" thought Knox should be chosen.

Previous to the session, the last big unstructured delegation, California's, met during the excitement and, although no poll was taken, only four of the forty-four delegates openly expressed opposition to Landon.

HOOVER'S SPEECH

The convention hall walls still rang with ex-President Hoover's exhortation of the New Deal last night and his call for a "holy crusade for liberty."

His speech to the convention won him the wildest demonstration that has marked the convocation so far. Mentioning none of the candidates for presidential nomination or platform planks in violent dispute, Mr. Hoover inquired whether the convention would offer a "will-o'-the-wisp" platform.

HAD FINE CAREER ON BRITISH COLUMBIA BENCH

THE LATE HON. F. B. GREGORY

Retired Supreme Court Justice of B.C. Passes Away

Hon. Francis B. Gregory Dies at His Craigdarroch Home; Had Been on Bench Twenty-three Years; Rose to Rank of Commanding Officer of Fifth Regiment, C.G.A.

Death brought to a close today the active life of Hon. Francis Brooke Gregory, who retired three years ago from the Supreme Court of British Columbia after twenty-three years on the bench.

Mr. Gregory died at his home, 1048 Craigdarroch Road, at 8:30 o'clock this morning in his seventy-fourth year. He had not been well for some time and made two visits to Mayo Brothers' Clinic at Rochester, N.Y., in the last two years for treatment.

In the legal profession and on the bench of Canada he leaves many friends, as well as those in everyday walks of life, among them scores of young people who used to watch him at work in his famed wood and metal-working hobby shop.

Mr. Gregory served on the British Columbia bench from 1909, when he was appointed to fill one of the vacancies caused through the creation of the Court of Appeal.

In 1933 he retired on superannuation to occupy his time at the work bench of his shop with its many lathes and tools.

He is survived by the widow and two sons, George Frederick and Francis Brooke, at the family residence, and two sisters, Miss Edith Gregory and Mrs. H. V. B. Bridges, in New Brunswick.

His distinguished career on the bench coincided with an interesting period in the growth of British Columbia's law courts. For some years he was Victoria's only judge on the Supreme Court.

TRIBUTES PAID FORMER JUDGE

Tributes from government leaders, the bench and bar were paid today to Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory who died this morning.

Attorney-General Sloan said: "I am indeed sorry to hear of the death of the Hon. Mr. Gregory. His many fine qualities of mind and heart fitted him for the high and exacting duties of the judicial office he held for so long."

"Always meticulously careful in his own work, he insisted that the younger members of the bar prepare and present their cases with strict regard to form and precedent, yet withal the younger men always found in him a wise counselor and friend who, in his judgments, looked with an understanding heart beyond strict formality and did substantial justice."

Mr. Justice Murphy said: "I join today with a large circle of British Columbians in mourning the passing of Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory, who had been my personal friend for the last forty years, and a colleague on the bench for over twenty years. A warm-hearted friend and man of sterling integrity, he was a judge meticulous in the performance of his judicial duties and one who commanded the respect, as a judge, of the bar and I believe of all citizens of this province. All his colleagues deeply regretted his retirement two years ago and feel deeply over his passing."

Judge P. S. Lampman said: "British Columbia has lost a fine judicial personality today in the passing of Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory, and a wide circle of friends mourn the loss of a highly regarded man. I knew the late justice when he was a benchman in the law society of which I was secretary, and enjoyed his friendship over thirty-five years ago when he was colonel of the Fifth Regiment, of which I was paymaster. We had been neighbors at Shawnigan summer homes. His work on the bench was a fine example."

MONSOON HOLDS EVEREST PARTY

Associated Press
Darjeeling, India, June 11. - A monsoon screamed with new fury over the towering Himalayas today, bringing heavy snowstorms to balk a British expedition's attempt to scale Mount Everest. ### CHINESE HERE BACK CANTON

Telegrams Sent to South and North at Meeting Last Night

Canton's marching armies and the southwestern political council's call to unity and war against Japan has fired the enthusiasm and gained the full support of the Chinese in Victoria.

At a meeting in the Chinese Benevolent Hall, yesterday evening, delegates of twenty Tonga representing the 2,000 Chinese in the city, cheered a resolution supporting the South's action against Japan. Two telegrams were dispatched to the two centres of government in China.

To the southwestern political council at Canton, the meeting wired full support, and to Chiang Kai-shek and the Kuomintang in Nanking, a request that they accept the decision of the south and unite against Japan. The meeting was called by the Chinese Salvation Association, a society recently formed when General Pang, Chinese patriot was in the city. No decision to collect money for the southern armies was made.

Quon Yee, Albert Mah and Yu were elected to the executive of the association.

General Pang, who is now in San Francisco, was named honorary president.

Thomas Resigns As British M.P.

Associated Press
London, June 11.—J. H. Thomas, former Colonial Secretary, announced in the House of Commons today his resignation as National Labor member of the House for Derby.

Mr. Thomas, who left the cabinet because the budget "leak" tribunal held him responsible for disclosing budget secrets, announced also he would not contest the Derby seat in the by-election which his resignation from the House makes necessary.

Mr. Thomas represented Derby from 1910 till the present.

Sir Alfred Butt, wealthy conservative member of the House also announced his resignation. He has sat for Balham and Tooting division of Wandsworth since 1922.

The budget "leak" tribunal named Sir Alfred as one of the persons who had made use of information disclosed by Mr. Thomas concerning the budget "for purposes of his private gain."

HANDS TREMBLE
Reading slowly from carefully-prepared statement, Mr. Thomas said: "I intend to resign my seat immediately."

Highest Dignitary of His Church

HIS EMINENCE JEAN MARIE RODRIQUE VILLENEUVE
Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec

Highest dignitary of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada and the first Canadian cardinal to ever visit British Columbia, His Eminence Jean Marie Rodrique Villeneuve, Cardinal Archbishop of Quebec, is in Victoria today on a brief visit to Rt. Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Bishop of Victoria.

Canadian Cardinal Comes To Victoria On Unofficial Trip

Associated Press
Rome, June 11.—Military authorities said today that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, retired as Viceroy of Ethiopia, will now begin the reorganization of all Italy's military forces.

Premier Mussolini today accepted his resignation as Viceroy and reappointed him chief of staff of the army.

Those in charge of the Cardinal's tour to western Canada did not include Victoria in the itinerary. When His Eminence heard about that in Vancouver yesterday morning he insisted on coming here. He said he must see the capital of British Columbia, of which he had heard a great deal, and he also wanted to see the farthest west diocese of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada.

So, taking the matter in his own hands, he arranged to come to Victoria, without advising anyone.

The Cardinal was taken for a motor drive about Victoria by Bishop MacDonald and made calls on several Roman Catholic institutions in Victoria, including St. Ann's Academy, St. Joseph's Hospital and St. Louis College. At these places the Sisters of St. Ann and the Irish Christian Brothers were presented to him.

CHAMBERLAIN RESCUES BOY

Associated Press
London, June 11.—Forgetting his grey top hat and morning coat, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, waded knee-deep into St. James Park lake today to rescue a four-year-old boy.

Mr. Chamberlain was walking in the park, within sight of both Buckingham Palace and St. James's Palace, when he heard a woman's screams.

He hurried a railing, strode through the water, grasped the lad and handed him over to his mother. Then, his striped trousers dripping water, he hurried away to nearby 11 Downing Street.

GODBOUT TO LEAD; QUEBEC VOTES AUG. 15

Liberal Minister of Agriculture Sworn as Premier Immediately After Taschereau's Resignation and Legislature Dissolved; August 8 Will Be Nomination Day, With Polling Week Later

Canadian Press
Quebec, June 11.—Hon. Louis Alexandre Taschereau, for thirty-five years an outstanding figure in Quebec's colorful political life, resigned today as Premier and was succeeded immediately by Hon. J. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture.

Mr. Godbout accepted the invitation of Lieutenant-Governor Patenaude to form a new cabinet and intimated he would announce the personnel probably Saturday.

Then the government will appeal for a new mandate from the people, Saturday, August 15, less than ten months after the Taschereau regime was returned with a majority of only six seats. It was the closest fight the Liberal Party had received in the thirty-eight years it has held power in Quebec.

Announcement of the election date was made coincident with the statement by Premier Taschereau he had requested the Lieutenant-Governor to dissolve the Legislature.

SWORN IN AS PREMIER

Mr. Godbout was sworn in as Premier by Dr. Alfred Morrisette, clerk of the Executive Council, in the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor and the former Premier.

Loud cheers from a waiting crowd of spectators greeted the announcements when Chairman Leon Casgrain relayed the news in the public accounts committee room.

The resignation of Premier Taschereau had been reported imminent all week. But even until late last night when asked if it were true Mr. Godbout would be asked to take over the leadership. Mr. Taschereau told reporters he would not have been in his legislative seat if he had resigned. Mr. Godbout said he knew nothing of the reports.

AFTER CABINET MEETING

Today, however, the Premier came out of a cabinet meeting, wiping perspiration from his forehead. He smiled when newspapermen crowded around and asked what had been decided at the early morning meeting—the fourth session of the cabinet in forty-eight hours. He revealed the House would be dissolved and told the

FINAL ELECTION TALLY TOMORROW

The official count of balloting in the Victoria Federal by-election last Monday will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the office of the returning officer, Sydney Child, Hibben-Bone Building. This count merely involves the totaling up of individual tally sheets made out on the night of the election and does not include a recount of the actual ballots.

The latter count is pursued only where a candidate applies for an official recount before a judge. It is not expected the figures compiled on election night will be materially altered by the official count.

FAVORS THREE YEARS

He did not think it right that a proposal which might eliminate the three year course should go ahead without action by the school board. Personally, the trustee said, he had always been satisfied with the three year term.

George H. Deane, municipal inspector, reminded the board the curriculum was drafted principally for a four year term at present, but provision was made for the completion of the course in three years. Under the existing system Victoria High had been largely organized on the four year basis, with 60 to 70 per cent taking the longer term.

Reports on the proposed new changes indicated they could organize

U.S. REPUBLICANS DRAFT PLATFORM

SOUND MONEY IS DEMANDED

But No Mention of Gold Standard in Planks; Borah Wins Demands For Anti-monopoly Pledge; Landon Gets No Constitutional Amendment

Cleveland, Ohio, June 11.—The platform of the Republican party for the coming presidential election in the United States was still being drafted when the convention recessed this afternoon, till 7 o'clock this evening, but a number of the principal planks were definitely indicated.

These include the following:

1. A monetary plank calling for "sound money," but omitting mention of the "gold standard."
2. A foreign affairs plank, pledging opposition to American membership in the League of Nations and the World Court.
3. An anti-monopoly pledge strong enough to win the approval of Borah, who made it his chief campaign issue.
4. A farm plank stressing state's rights.

A strong state's rights trend ran through the entire platform draft. It was stressed in the social security, farm and unemployment relief plank. The policy subcommittee, worn from its long hours, finally left out any direct mention of the "gold standard" and made no recommendation for a constitutional amendment for state minimum wage legislation.

NO LEAGUE AFFILIATION

Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho won out for a declaration against affiliation with the League of Nations or the World Court, and a pledge to attack the monopoly problem.

LANDON'S CHANGES

Some of the platform rewriting asked by Governor Landon of Kansas, expected to be nominated Presidential candidate, was said by committee members to be chiefly a matter of phrasing, but among the significant demands were:

1. Inclusion of a platform pledging civil service status for all government employees below the rank of cabinet.
2. Reinstatement of a plank for control of interstate public utilities.
3. Revision of a plank condemning the New Deal's reciprocal tariff law, and demanding that trade treaties be ratified by the Senate.

A Landon demand for a "pay as you go" tax programme to finance social security was accepted finally by the sub-committee after once being rejected.

As it emerged from the sub-committee, the platform came close to conforming to the demands of Senator Borah. Landon managers said it was near enough to the Senator's views to win his support for the ticket in November. Borah refused immediate comment on this claim.

MEET WISHES

Members of the sub-committee said Landon had been given almost everything he asked in changes of the original compromise platform, except a plank for a constitutional amendment to permit minimum wage legislation by state.

Two of Landon's high command said the demand for this plank would be carried to the full committee which meets this afternoon.

NANKING OUT TO STOP SOUTH

Associated Press

Nanking, June 11.—Three divisions of Nanking (North) government troops marched southward into Hunan province today to check the advance of Cantonese armies.

Their destination was Changsha, capital of Hunan and reported goal of the Kwangtung and Kwangsi soldiers.

The southwest government is attempting to force the northern national government to unite in military resistance to Japanese invasion of the republic.

Nanking's efforts to persuade the southerners to check their northward move was joined by numerous provincial governors who telegraphed to Canton. Any clash between the two Chinese administrations, they declared, would be "suicide."

Retired Supreme Court Justice Of B.C. Passes Away

Born in Fredericton, New Brunswick, on August 23, 1862, he was in a sense raised to the bench as his father was to become Mr. Justice G. F. Gregory of that province.

He was educated at the Collegiate School, Fredericton, and at Harvard University, from where he was graduated in 1884. At the Collegiate School he studied under Dr. George R. Parkin, the noted Imperial Federationist, later to become a trustee of the Rhodes scholarships.

HARVARD GRADUATE

Fresh from Harvard the young man returned to the New Brunswick capital, was called to the bar in the same year, and went into business. His father's law firm was Gregory and Blair, the second member destined to become prominent in Canadian politics as the Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways under Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The young lawyer could have enjoyed the distinction to be gained by entering that firm, but he chose to start out for himself.

For his first law office he obtained the window space in an implement shop in Fredericton. Cases came to him and they were of the usual non-lucrative kind that fall to the lot of the young lawyer everywhere. His first one had to do with the rights of the public on a ferry running across the St. John River from a landing in front of his implement-shop window office. His client had been refused transportation across the river by the ferryman at a certain hour of the day, getting an award of $3 damages.

Soon after that he decided that Fredericton did not offer much scope, and he decided to come west. He bought his ticket for the farthest point west, Victoria. He arrived in Victoria in 1890, only to be disappointed to find here a law under which a lawyer could not be admitted to the bar to practice until after one year's residence.

But with the spirit of a mariner, he set himself to rectify that. He saw the members of the Legislature, pointed to the law and Gregory, which continued until he left to do the judicial rounds.

STARTED HOBBY

In one of the houses still standing some from the C.P.R. docks on Belleville Street, he took up his residence, in association with two other rising young legal men, who were later to become Chief Justice Gordon Hunter of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, and Chief Justice Sir Lyman F. Duff of the Supreme Court of Canada.

In that home he launched his hobby—the wood and metal-working shop—the output of which in succeeding years stirred the admiration of his friends and the envy of many professional woodworkers.

At that time, Victoria was the legal centre of the west, and lawyers from here were called to distant parts of the province. One of his first experiences was a trip into the Cariboo to handle a case against a man who conducted his own defence. At the conclusion of the trial he moved to the coast. The defendant who had come from the Marble Canyon, presented a bill of costs not only for counsel fees for himself but generous allowances to cover all his expenses to Barkerville and back. The young Victoria lawyer had the experience of seeing this bill sustained not only by the registrar but later by the judge and the full court.

SEALING SEIZURES

During his years of practice, the junior member of the firm of Fell and Gregory was much to do with the cases with the United States Government arising out of the seizures of Victoria sealing schooners in Bering Sea by United States revenue cutters. He went to Alaska to collect evidence in these cases, more especially with regard to that of the schooner W. P. Sayward. At Sitka he employed a number of clerks and copied the court records, with which he went to Washington to fight the cases.

Outside of the legal profession he was active in many spheres. He was appointed consul for France for this part of the Pacific.

He interested himself in matters military and rose to be officer commanding the Fifth Regiment, C.O.A., from which he retired with the rank of Lieutenant-colonel. In 1897 as a member of the Canadian contingent he went to London to attend Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee celebration. Victoria was a hotbed of politics in those days and he was in the midst of excitement, unsuccessfully running for office.

In 1900 came the institution of the Court of Appeal for British Columbia under Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald, and the elevation to that court from the Supreme Court of Mr. Justice Archer Martin and the late Mr. Justice Irving. To fill the two vacancies on the Supreme Court Denis Murphy of Ashcroft and Mr. Gregory of Victoria were appointed. The latter ascended the bench here in the Supreme Court chamber in the Station Square court house on December 6, 1909.

DEMANDED RESPECT FOR COURTS

During his career on the bench he upheld the highest traditions of the Canadian judiciary, not only legally, but in associating with his office a responsibility for inculcating a higher sense of citizenship in the community. He demanded respect for the courts and lackadaisical court crowds before him were quickly brought to task.

In 1913 the judge married Miss Hannah P. Thompson, daughter of the late Senator F. P. Thompson of Fredericton.

Until late in life he disliked motor cars. Then, after a friend persuaded him to get behind the wheel of a car he was converted overnight, so to speak, into one of Victoria's most ardent motorists.

He was a consistent church-goer, and for years belonged to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here. When union of the churches came he joined the First United congregation.

On his retirement in 1933 Mr. Gregory was honored by the entire legal profession. At a complimentary dinner in the Union Club he received tributes and praise from distinguished members of the bar in which he was described as something more than a judge, in that his term on the bench was in many ways a forerunner in the history of B.C. courts.

Many children in the neighborhood of Judge Gregory's home found in him a willing helper when their toys or playthings were broken. If a toy train had lost a wheel or a go-cart was in need of repair they would take it to "the judge," and in his workshop he would make good the damage.

The remains are resting at McCall Brothers' Funeral Parlors, and will be taken to the family residence on Saturday morning. The funeral service will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in First United Church.

Thomas Resigns As British M.P.

Mr. Thomas' hands trembled as he spoke. He seemed almost on the verge of tears.

He reiterated his denial that he would have disclosed any secret of the budget brought down in the House last April.

"I say this to the House," said the former Colonial Secretary, "regardless of any report, I never consciously gave away a budget secret."

His face was flushed and his eyes were brimming with tears as he concluded his six-minute statement.

"I would only say that no word of debate here can wound me more than I feel wounded."

Taschereau May Soon Be Senator

Canadian Press

Ottawa, June 11.—Departure of former Premier L. A. Taschereau from Quebec's political scene may be followed swiftly by his elevation to the Senate, according to persistent rumors on Parliament Hill, where developments in the Ancient Capital have been chief topic of lobby discussions for several days.

Confirmation or denial of the report could not be obtained since the government never commits itself in advance on any such appointments, nor would political leaders comment formally on the Quebec situation.

A vacancy exists in the red chamber due to the recent death of Senator Emile Fortin of Lévis.

Seek Three-year High School Term

the high school completely on the four year basis at virtually no greater expense.

Last year, Mr. Deane stated, the highest ranking Victoria High scholars, those gaining 80 per cent and over, were largely students taking the complete course in three years. They amounted to about 10 per cent of the student body, he said.

Trustee Kenneth Ferguson suggested the bright students would be penalized by the imposition of a straight four-year course.

Trustee George reiterated his opinion that the board should be something more than an administrative body. "Are we going to just accept those changes without question?" he asked.

The average child, he felt, did not want the four year course.

Trustee W. C. Moresby, board chairman, suggested the matter be raised at the trustees' convention.

Trustee George further stated he did not think a child trying the course in three years should be required to do all the work set for the four year course.

A special three-year course for those who wanted it and provision for the particularly bright to complete full matriculation in three years was suggested by Trustee Ferguson.

DUAL OBJECT

Mr. Deane reminded the board of the dual object of school work in secondary institutions. One aim was to prepare the student for higher study and the other to make him a citizen and capable citizen. He did not think it possible to put the curriculum for a high school leaving course into three years.

Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin remarked upon the complexities faced by those trying to rearrange the courses. She advocated a policy of waiting until the department had indicated its intentions.

New Quebec Head Farm Authority

Hon. J. A. Godbout, Who Is Forming Cabinet With General Election Set For August 15, Known to Agrarians Across Canada

Canadian Press

Quebec, June 11.—Hon. Joseph Adélard Godbout, today called on to form a ministry to succeed that of Hon. Louis Alexandre Taschereau, retiring Premier of Quebec, is one of the leading authorities on agriculture in Canada. He was professor at the Agricultural College at Ste. Anne de la Pointe before entering public life.

Mr. Godbout was first elected to the Quebec Legislature at a by-election in 1922 and the following year succeeded Hon. J. D. Perron as Minister of Agriculture.

Under his direction legislation aimed to improve the standard of farming in Quebec has been enacted. A large number of co-operatives for farmers have been formed under this legislation and Quebec produce has been shipped abroad in large quantities.

Mr. Godbout was born at St. Eloi, Que., September 24, 1892, a son of Eugene Godbout, member of the Legislature for Temiscouata. He was educated at Rimouski, Ste. Anne de la Pointe Agricultural College and Amherst, Mass., taking B.A. and B.S.A. degrees.

Mr. Godbout married Marie Dorila, daughter of Florent Fortin, Lévis, in 1928 and they have four children.

He extended the deepest sympathy to his family in their bereavement.

Vancouver, June 11.—Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald of the British Columbia Supreme Court today paid tribute to Hon. J. A. Godbout, retiring member of the Supreme Court bench.

"Our late colleague has been greatly missed since his retirement from the bench and his death will be deeply felt. He was a careful, sound, courageous and upright judge and a loyal friend."

"His scores of friends throughout the province will mourn his death."

Canadian Cardinal Comes to Victoria On Unofficial Trip

Bishop MacDonald will be in the Cardinal's party leaving tonight for Vancouver. He will also take part in the Eucharistic Congress.

In Vancouver the Cardinal, the fourth Canadian to be elevated to the Sacred College of Cardinals and one of the youngest prelates in modern times to receive the Red Hat, was described as "a modest, amiable little man of fifty-three, whose habit of life today is as simple as it was during his long career as teaching member of Canada's great missionary order—the Oblates of Mary Immaculate."

PLEASANT TRIP

His Eminence makes it an invariable rule never to give interviews, but he had no hesitation in making known his pleasure at his arrival in British Columbia.

"It has been a wonderful journey," said Magr. Grandbois, speaking for him.

In Ottawa the Cardinal and his party had lunch at Rideau Hall with the Governor-General. At Edmonton he received an honorary doctorate from the University of Alberta and lunched with Lieutenant-Governor Walsh. He spent three days at Gravelbourg, and in Calgary he met Magr. Andrea Casullo, Apostolic delegate to Canada and Newfoundland, who will reach Vancouver Saturday morning for the congress.

Villeneuve, now a prince of his Church, was born in Montreal, the son of a devout cobbler, and a member of a family that traces its ancestry back nine generations in Canadian history. In 1699 Martin Villeneuve married Jeanne Chausset and became founder of the family.

Opposition Leader Maurice Duplessis, whose Conservative forces, allied with the ranks of Action Libérale Nationale, gained so much in the general election November 25 last, said he found the government's "manner of proceeding rather curious."

When newspapermen asked Mr. Duplessis to interpret the government's action, he declared:

"It is not only the Legislature that has been dissolved, but the Taschereau regime also. I find the government's manner of proceeding rather curious, however."

"We were just commencing the inquiry before the public accounts committee and had not started to bring to light all the scandal which I have promised to prove. Now the government asks that the House be dissolved."

"The inquiry we started will be continued by the next government and I can assure you it will be a complete inquiry."

"Restitution will be forced from those who have pocketed public funds, and those guilty of criminal offences will be sent to jail."

When the news of the election reached the Legislature, accounts committee, it was in the room where Chairman Leon Caagrain announced Tuesday that Antoine C. Taschereau, a brother of Premier Taschereau, had resigned as accountant for the Legislative Assembly.

OUTGOING MINISTERS

Members of the Taschereau Liberal ministry which resigned today were: Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier; Hon. Honore Mercier, Lands and Forests; Hon. J. E. Perrault, Attorney-General; Hon. Athanase David, Provincial Secretary; Hon. J. N. Francoeur, Mines and Public Works; Hon. R. F. Godbout, Agriculture; Hon. R. P. Stockwell, Provincial Treasurer; Hon. T. D. Bouchard, Municipal Affairs, Trade and Commerce; Hon. P. E. Cote, Roads; Hon. Edgar Rochette, Labor, Game, and Fisheries; Hon. Jacob Nicol, without portfolio; Hon. Cleophas Bastien, without portfolio; Hon. John Hall Kelly, without portfolio; Hon. Hector Authier, Colonization.

The solid Liberal flank that held political power in Quebec for nearly two-score years came out of the last general election of November 25, 1935, with the slim majority in its records—six.

The combined parties, L'Action Libérale Nationale and the Conservatives, gave the veteran Taschereau the greatest fight of his political life.

ELECTION HISTORY

The Liberal Party already had held away twenty years when Mr. Taschereau became Premier in 1920. But the action was taken on the ground that papers in the case were improperly served on Miss West.

S. J. Siegel, counsel for Wallace, said a new action would be instituted.

March Forward Says Roosevelt

U.S. Must Grow With the Times, Says President

Associated Press
Little Rock, Ark., June 11.—President Roosevelt pledged his administration yesterday evening to a "march forward" under the "broad purposes" of the constitution in meeting the economic and social needs of the day.
The chief executive told a large audience an overwhelming majority of the United States people believed the constitution was intended to "meet and fill the amazing physical, economic and social requirements that confront us in this generation."
He said that Jefferson "had the courage" to drive a bargain for the Louisiana purchase, despite legal doubts, and that the case was never carried to the Supreme Court.

"He also declared the country needed
"ardent protectors of the rights of the common man," and added no group, by reason of wealth, learning, inheritance or economic power, could
"abrogate to itself" political control of American public life for long.
He refrained from detailing how he intended to deal with current problems in view of the Supreme Court's invalidation of many new deal acts.

Chamberlain For Lifting Sanctions

British Chancellor of Exchequer Urges League End
Penalties on Italy

Canadian Press
London, June 11.—Lifting of sanctions from Italy and organization of a system of regional security pacts were urged yesterday evening by Rt. Hon.
Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Addressing the 1900 Club, the Chancellor added that before these proposals can be "translated in action, we must take counsel with others, particularly those dominions whose partnership with us means so much for the influence of the British Empire in the world."

Mr. Chamberlain alluded to the recent circling of the League of Nations Union urging pressure against the government to pursue sanctions and even intensify them with the object of still preserving the independence of Ethiopia.

That, the Chancellor declared, "is the very midsummer madness."
"Such a policy," he added, "would only lead to further misfortunes, which would divert our minds as practical men from seeking other, better solutions. The circumstances in which the Italy-Ethiopia dispute began offered a most favorable opportunity to exercise the League policy of collective security, but that policy, based on sanctions, has been tried out and has failed."

LATEST DESIGNS
Referring to the government's rearmament programme, Mr. Chamberlain said the last-come has the advantage of making use of the latest designs.

"To that extent," he said, "we have not altogether lost our time, but on the other hand we have but a short while to prepare ourselves for eventualities."
"It is time the nations composing the League reviewed the situation and decided to limit the functions of the League so they will accord with its real power. That would go far to restore the prestige and moral influence of the League, but naturally the League with those limitations could no longer be relied on by itself to secure the peace of the world."

REGIONAL AGREEMENTS
The Chancellor advocated regional agreements guaranteed by nations whose interests were vitally concerned.

But, he concluded, "whether we adopt a policy of isolation or alliances, it is essential that we be adequately armed."
The Marquess of Londonderry presided at the dinner. Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, Sir Robert Horne, Lord Lloyd and Lord Stonehaven also attended.

U.S. ARMS SOLD TO CANADIANS

Materials Worth $57,203
Shipped in May

Canadian Press
Washington, June 11.—Canada bought United States-made arms and military materials to the amount of $57,203 during May, it was announced yesterday by Secretary of State Hull.
Argentina headed all American nations with purchases of $489,321.

China was the largest buyer of United States arms, taking $1,390,102 worth.

Ottawa, June 11.—Any Canadian armament purchases from the United States last month were by private individuals and not by the government, according to Defence Department officials.

The comment followed a Washington announcement by Secretary of State Hull that Canada had bought United States-made arms and military materials to the amount of $57,203 during May.

The government made no purchases of such materials in the United States, said officials, who were somewhat mystified by the report. No guns had been bought for years and airplanes were not purchased there.

INDIANS PROTEST TAX

Calgary, June 11 (Canadian Press).
—Alberta's 11,000 Indians have entered a protest against paying the new provincial 2 per cent sales tax.
They have asked for a ruling from Ottawa. The protest is based on age-old treaties exempting the tribes from taxation.

MOVE TO RAISE ANNUITY RATES

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 11.—Senator Raoul
Dandurand, Liberal leader, yesterday told the Senate he would ask the responsible minister to consider bringing in a measure this session to increase rates to purchasers of government annuities. If this proposal were not viewed favorably, he would suggest to his colleague increase of further government annuities be suspended.

The Liberal leader was replying to a request of Senator F. B. Black, Conservative, New Brunswick, who presented a report from a special committee recommending an increase in rates, which had not been revised for years. The government leader said there was a large annual loss to the federal treasury.

EXPORTS CLIMB

Associated Press
Bellingham, Wash., June 11.—Attributed to the new reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada, a pronounced increase in livestock imports from British Columbia is noticeable, customs officers at Blaine and Sumas report.

Approximately twenty carloads a week are being cleared at those two ports of entry.

The duty on cattle was reduced 1c a pound.
In addition to the livestock entered for butchering, many truckloads of pure-bred cattle also are being brought in.

about rubber and its uses.

He was a rubber expert for the Paris Exposition of 1900 and the
St. Louis World's Fair in 1904. He

BURNABY WOMAN FOUND DROWNED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, June 11.—Police today were investigating the drowning of Mrs. W. A. Johnson, whose body was found on the shore of Kitano Lake Beach less than twelve hours after she disappeared from her home in Burnaby.

No marks of violence were found on the body, discovered on the beach behind rocks, which apparently prevented it from being carried out by the tide.

Mrs. Johnson left her home Tuesday for a walk, saying she would return in a short time. She is said to have been despondent owing to her husband's loss of employment.

MAKES "PERCENTAGE" PLAY

Declarer Sees Only Chance to Cinch His Contract in Division of Honors and Successful Finesse

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
Perhaps West did play this hand "wide open," as bridge players say when the defending side has an established suit, while declarer must establish winners in another suit and then take a finesse to fulfill his contract. But behind the method of play decided upon, was sound logic and the knowledge that, if declarer's plan did not work, the contract could not be made by any other line of play.

Thus, declarer's choice was what some bridge players call a "percentage" play. The odds were for him, because the chances favored division of the honors in the suit, and the plan was dictated by necessity, because the open hand had only a single card of entry.

NORTH WARD QUITE SAFE

School Will Not Be Retired For Some Years, Trustees Are Informed

North Ward School would be used for several years and would be quite safe, Trustee P. E. George informed the city school board yesterday evening when Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin asked if the building and grounds committee had given recent consideration to the retirement of the school.

The matter arose when the building and grounds committee chairman, Trustee George, sought approval of expenditures on weather stripping for the windows of that school at a cost of $150. His request was endorsed.

Mrs. MacLaurin remarked on the adverse report given on the school recently. Trustee George stated the school had been thoroughly tested by the city building inspector and found safe.

GIVES WARNING
During the debate on repairs, Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, chairman of the finance committee, urged the building and grounds group to watch its expenditures closely for fear they overstepped their estimates. Trustee Charles Bishop assured Trustee Ferguson expenditures were carefully scrutinized and no excess expenditure would be made.

The board approved surfacing the Quadra Street tennis court with asphalt at a cost of $140 and suggested the Oatlands court be given the same treatment if the Quadra treatment proved satisfactory.

Purchase of wire netting at a cost of $150 for the courts was also approved.

WANTS STAGE ENLARGED
George H. Deane, municipal inspector, drew to the board's attention the necessity for increasing the accommodation of the Victoria High School stage to care for increased emphasis on dramatics in the future.

He also suggested the board look into the possibility of establishing a special study room where students up to the number of seventy could do prep work under a teacher. Such a room, he said, would eliminate the necessity of one teacher and would pay for itself through the saving in salary.

BANFF READY FOR SEASON

United Commercial Travelers Will Be First Mountain Guests

Banff, June 11.—Officially opened for the summer tourist season of 1936, the doors of Banff Springs Hotel swing wide today in welcome to the northwest division of the United Commercial Travelers' twenty-sixth annual convention to hold sessions June 12 and 13. Summer green enhances the beauty of the great hills towering snow-capped above the trees and giant log fires crackle on hearths rekindled after the winter lull.

H. F. Moulden, chief agent of the U.C.T. for Canada, P. J. C. Coe, president, and A. W. Johnston, representing the supreme council, all of Winnipeg, are en route to the mountains, with fifty representatives from all points in the Canadian northwest.

R. R. Coyle, manager of the hotel, with T. C. Whalen and William Lyle, assistant managers, and the staff, which constitutes a community upwards of 300 in itself, are in readiness for what promises to be a record season as compared with the last several years.

Mart Kenney with his Western Gentlemen and Art Hallman, tenor, will be on hand for the nightly orchestra programmes and radio broadcasts from the ballroom. The Banff Springs Trio—Murray, Adair, violin and director; Louis Crerar, piano, and Philip Spivak, cello, will arrive shortly for the concert programmes, which have become world famous. They will be assisted by Frances James, soprano, and Catherine Wright, contralto, Toronto and New York, who will alternate in weekly appearances at the Chateau Lake Louise.

Interviewed today, T. E. Chester, Winnipeg, western manager of Canadian Pacific hotels, intimated that reservations for Banff and the other mountain resorts under his control already included visitors from all parts of the continent and from overseas. The American Institute of Banking is among the summer conventions at Banff Springs Hotel and the party of public school boys from England, now on tour, will shortly arrive there.

Burnside Seeks Entrance Class

Full Eight-grade School Requested By Parents of District

Establishment of Burnside as a full eight-grade elementary school was sought in a petition from parents of seventh grade students and read at yesterday evening's meeting of the city school board. Trustee W. C. Moresby told a delegation from Burnside the suggestion would be given careful consideration.

A spokesman for a delegation which met the board voiced protest against the dilapidated and depressing condition of North Ward School to which Burnside students were forced to go after passing from the seventh grade. She also drew to the board's attention the fact students were required to make a dangerous crossing to go from Burnside district to North Ward. Without Burnside's entrance students North Ward could do without one teacher and the costs of establishing an eighth grade at Burnside would be minimized, it was stated.

A room was available for the extra class at Burnside and the continuity such a class would afford would be very desirable to the school, the petitioners said.

It takes four years to make a bottle of Yorkshire Relish. Its flavor is matured from more than 20 carefully selected fruits, vegetables, herbs, spices, essences, measured and blended with test tube accuracy, steeped in cool vats for four years to produce this mellow, piquant flavor sauce.

Yorkshire Relish does you good, too. Its aromatic herbs and spices stimulate the gastric juices and help digestion.

Recipe for Rideau Meat Pie

1 1/2 lbs. top round steak.
3 lamb's kidneys.
1 sliced onion.
2 tablespoons butter.
Cut steak into 1-inch cubes. Soak, pare, and cut kidneys in fine cubes. Try out fat removed from steak; add onion and stir till browned. Add meat and 1 tablespoon butter; stir constantly until well browned. Remove to stew-pan. To fat remaining in pan add boiling water and strain; add Yorkshire Relish, salt, pepper. Pour over meat, and cook slowly on back of range until tender. Strain off liquid remaining in pan and thicken with remaining butter and flour. Cool meat, turn into baking dish, pour over half the sauce, reserving the remainder to serve with pie. Place strip of paste on rim of dish, brush with cold water, put on cover of paste after cutting hole in centre. Garnish with a border of parallel crusts, and four diamond-shaped pieces. Around edge make a row of parallel crusts, and three times with scissors. Bake in hot oven until pastry is brown.

Try its taste before you cook

See how flavorful Yorkshire Relish is. Pour a few drops into a teaspoon. What flavor! Hot, yet sweet; no other sauce can impart such delicious flavor to your cooking.

Women Adopt New Code For Domestic

Suggest Sixty-nine-hour Week, Overtime and Minimum Wage

Canadian Press
Halifax, June 11.—The National Council of Women, in annual convention here, yesterday adopted in principle a code for household workers and employees which, among other things, would call for a work week of not more than sixty-nine hours, overtime pay and a minimum wage schedule.

Miss A. M. Ward of the Halifax Young Women's Christian Association presented the code and after considerable discussion the convention decided to send it to local councils throughout Canada.

The economic committee of the National Y.W.C.A. started a code in 1934 to deal with problems of household workers and employees. This present code, delegates said, represents an attempt to meet the situation which in many centres resulted in formation of maids' unions pleading to various government bodies for legislation to aid them.

The code presented by Miss Ward was:

1. Working hours per week should not exceed sixty-nine, including meal hours.
  2. Minimum wage in cities over 100,000; inexperienced household help $17 per month, experienced $22; minimum wage in cities under 100,000: inexperienced $15, experienced $20.
  3. Overtime work should be paid for either in money or extra time off.
  4. Hours off, rates of pay and general outline of duties should be set at time of employment.
  5. Separate room for sleeping should be provided, and some facilities for entertaining.
- The code contained recommendations made to give every other statutory holiday and two weeks' vacation on pay after a year's employment. It was also suggested the minimum rates be increased as efficiency warrants.

PERSONAL

Miss Kathleen Agnew, Rockland Avenue, is spending a few days in Vancouver.

Mrs. Hugo Bevan, Beach Drive, is visiting in Vancouver as the guest of Mrs. Reginald Chaplin at "Glen Lodge."

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Matthews of Brandon, who have been visiting in Victoria, left this afternoon for Vancouver, from where they will leave on Sunday morning by motor on a trip to the Atlantic Coast during which time they will visit in Halifax, Prince Edward Island, Boston, New York and Washington before returning to their home on the prairie. As the representative from the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada Mr. Matthews will attend the National Life Underwriters' convention in Boston.

Miss Madge Hersey, whose marriage will take place the end of June, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by the Misses Louise and Helen Marsh at their home, 1325 Caravan Street, on Tuesday evening. The supper table was decorated with a miniature bride and groom standing in a flower-decked garden with a little path leading to an artistically drawn house, in which the many gifts were concealed. Cards were played during the evening, the prizes being won by Misses Dorothy Higgs and Morley, Phyllis Baylis, Marjory Todd, Jean Taylor, Marjorie Butcher, Dorothy Higgs and Jean Marsh.

The annual meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of the Baptist Memorial Church, Brentwood, was held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Slugett, Mrs. Brown presiding. The short devotion was led by the president, after which a brief business session was held. The meeting was taken over by Mrs. J. Stewart, who gave a talk on the life of Bishop Bontas and his work among the natives in the far north. Two vocal solos by Mrs. Garthman of Victoria were won by Misses Dorothy Higgs and Morley. Officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Mrs. E. N. Apps; Vice-president, Mrs. H. Creed; Secretary, Mrs. R. J. Farrell; and treasurer, Mrs. A. Shiner.

as she had expected for the next week. Pete did not explain his absence, and she would not ask him to, but when she alighted from the trolley at the end of her street and saw a sleek Rolls parked in her path, she was curious enough to look at its occupants. Therein, in unaccustomed luxury, sat her Pete, a rag of fun over his knee and Miss Honey Harmon on his arm.

Linda got back on the trolley car and rode to the end of the line, trying to decide whether she was angry, jealous or disgusted. She decided she did not know, but she would have given a great deal to know what Pete could have been saying that had brought a look of such utter absorption to Honey Harmon's face.

Pete, his fingers crossed, had been saying, "I have a play I'd like you to read. I had you in mind—or a woman just like you—when I wrote it."

Your Baby's Health

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Cow's milk is used most generally in the United States as a substitute for mother's milk.

It is essential that the milk come from healthy cows, that it be handled only by healthy people, and that it be clean and fresh.

Milk from different types of cows varies in its composition. The very rich milk that comes from Jerseys and Alderneys usually is not as satisfactory as that from averages of a number of cows. Ordinarily, the best milk is that taken from a herd and mixed.

Nowadays milk production and distribution is largely under state control. The milk is taken from the cows in mixed herds and then pasteurized.

In country homes and in districts where milk is obtained fresh from the cows, the fluid should be boiled at once. Then it may be strained through several thicknesses of cheesecloth into jars or milk bottles which have been boiled. After being filled with the milk, these bottles should be covered and cooled immediately.

Milk for older children also should be boiled, unless it has been pasteurized. Pasteurization or boiling destroys the germs by heat.

Most of the germs in good milk are not dangerous to human health. Occasionally, however, the streptococcus which produces septic sore throat may get into milk, and more rarely such dangerous germs as those of typhoid, diphtheria, or scarlet fever.

In general, it is believed that heating milk does not injure it seriously, so far as its nutritional value is concerned. Moreover, some specialists believe that heating makes the milk more digestible, by alternating the casein.

Because the vitamin C necessary for the child may be destroyed by the heat process, it is customary to begin giving orange juice very early in life.

Directions for artificial feeding of any baby should be given by a doctor who understands this work. Cow's milk alone will not provide the baby with the food elements that it requires and in the proper proportions. It is necessary to change the composition to meet the needs of the individual baby.

Only a thorough understanding of these requirements can bring about proper modification for the individual child.

When cow's milk is fed, the gastric acidity of the baby will increase in acidity to take care of the difference in the reaction between the cow's milk and human milk. To bring cow's milk to the optimum acidity for digestion, there times as much acid must be added to obtain the amount that is had with ordinary human milk.

One part of cow's milk diluted with two parts of water makes the milk more like the human variety. For this reason, it is customary to add water to the cow's milk in preparing the baby's formula.

Foreign Dances To Be Featured

The native dances of Japan, Spain, Mexico, Russia, China, Ireland and a score of other foreign countries will be seen on the programme which will be given by the pupils of the Florence Clough Dance Academy at the Royal Victoria Theatre tomorrow evening.

This programme promises to be one of the most ambitious seen in Victoria this season. Taking part will be 175 people who have been rehearsing now for some weeks.

Costumes for the various dances have been worked out in detail and all promise to be typical of the ones in which the dancers of the various countries perform.

Most of the dances are happy ones, for in Japan and European countries the dances are always featured on native folk days.

The children will take a prominent part on the programme. The tiny tots will be featured in a Rainbow Ballet, which will have much life and color. The youngsters will also be seen in modern tap and jazz dances, in which some of them excel.

Two Canadians Prize Winners

New York, June 11.—Two Canadians, Miss Laura Elizabeth Chapman of Saskatoon, Sask., and Leslie W. Crozier of Toronto are winners of the second and third prizes respectively offered by the History Society of New York for essays on "How can youth develop co-operative and harmonious relations among the races of the earth?"

The first prize in the competition, open to the youth of Africa, Australia, Canada and New Zealand, was won by Wycliffe Tsoti, a native of South Africa. The prizes were $300, $200 and $100.

Miss Chapman is twenty-six years of age and Mr. Crozier nineteen.

Miss Chapman suggests a thorough study of all aspects of the racial problems and social activity designed to do away with racial prejudice.

RIVER PORT SETS RECORD

New Westminster, June 11.—The port of New Westminster set an all-time monthly record during May for export tonnage and number of ships in port. It was announced today by the Harbour Board.

Forty-nine deep-sea ships sailed from here during the month with 96,517 tons of cargo, compared with May, 1935, the previous high month, when forty-six ships sailed with 86,711 tons.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel!"
FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1936

According to astrology, this is a day of sinister omens. Malignant aspects rule strongly from early morning until evening.

Under this planetary government there is need to fight depressing thoughts and prevent a sense of discouragement which interferes with efficiency in office or shop.

Women should be especially cautious today, for fatigue and even illness may result from mere routine exertions. Warning is given that the summer will bring many heat prostrations.

This is an unfavorable rule for commercial projects of many sorts. Merchants should be exceedingly careful in replenishing their stocks of goods, for surprising events will bring about unexpected business conditions.

Men who are leaders in public affairs now come under a direction of the stars that is most exciting and perplexing. For friends will become enemies and there will be antagonism where formerly there was loyalty.

The evening of this day may be less unpleasant than the previous day, but it may bring disappointments, especially for young men who count on winning appreciation from girls who they entertain at dinners or dances.

College students are likely to discover that their year's records are not altogether satisfactory to the home folks and disillusioning incidents may be expected after vacation begins.

The stars encourage a pugnacious spirit among men and secret feuds among women. Organizations of every sort will breed serious conflicts of opinion.

Persons who are of a year offering certain obstacles that may retard progress, but they have the promise of good luck which issues from misfortune.

Children born on this day probably will be of mild and kindly dispositions. Subjects of this sign usually are intellectual and modest but able to succeed.

Those who have celebrated it as a birthday include Charles L. McNary, United States Senator, 1874 (and Charles Kingsley, clergyman and novelist, 1819).

"Folly and Farewell"

By MARIE BLIZARD

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Linda Bourne, twenty years old, pretty and socially prominent in the little town of Newtown, is left almost penniless after the sudden death of her father.

She becomes friendly with Peter Gardiner, political reporter, and shows him a scenario she has written. Peter gets Linda a job as society reporter.

Dir Carter, with whom Linda is in love, goes abroad for a year. His letters are far between, and Linda tries to forget him. She becomes engaged to Peter, but postpones the date of the wedding.

Peter writes a play, submits it to a producer who tells him to "try Hollywood."

Honey Harmon, film actress, comes to Newtown on a "personal appearance" tour.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

Newtown did not close its shops the day Honey Harmon arrived to shed her cinematic glory over its modest environs. Nor did its mayor meet her train with the keys to the city. But what the town lacked in civic welcome, the residents made up by their massed attendance at the Palace. Complete from whole families to Linda Bourne and Peter Gardiner, they waited patiently in line for the tickets that would give them first-hand knowledge of what a real movie star could do, as an entertainer.

Unfortunately there was little that this one could do that night. True, she gave them an excellent chance to see how lovely one small, golden-haired dynamo could be in the flesh. A glittering halo in her famous blonde hair, a sheath of white satin, a coat of snowy ermine and the famous diamond bracelets did well by the ### picture, but the husky tones that only Honey Harmon boasted were lost. The rosebud mouth smiled appealingly. Blue eyes looked out sadly from under nearly-inch-long blackened eyelashes while Honey's manager explained to a disappointed audience that Honey was ill. Brave little thing that she was, she felt she could not let her public down, but speak she could not. A cold had developed into something serious and she had lost her voice. She spread her hands, bowed and blew them kisses and became less real to them than her shadowed self that appeared later on the screen.

Pete, sitting beside Linda in the darkened theatre, was, for once, more conscious of the picture than the girl beside him. He watched the screen with absorbed attention, and slipped the ever-ready card of paper from his pocket to make surreptitious notes on the figure of the famous heroine glided, swept and stormed across the silver sheet. "Bravo!" he said, once upon her bow.

That night, when the picture was over, Pete literally dragged Linda to the Mason House, Newtown's leading hotel, "for supper," he said, and when they had ordered the usual chicken sandwich and coffee, he secured himself and made a bee-line for the desk. Was Miss Harmon staying there?

She was, but she had gone directly from the theatre to the Newtown Hospital. The cold in her throat was as serious as her manager had claimed. When Pete heard this he smiled with satisfaction. Hardly an expression one would expect at such news.

Pete did not mention his visit to the hotel desk to Linda. Nor did he tell her that the next morning he ordered—after personally selecting them—a box of long-stemmed roses sent to Miss Honey Harmon, Newtown Hospital. And thereafter enclosed a card marked simply: "You were charming last night—Peter Gardiner."

That day he made two telephone calls to the hospital. Miss Harmon had lost her voice quite completely. Yes, it was likely that she would remain for a few days. Then, three days later, dressed to what he called "the gills" (by which he meant his shoes were neatly shined, his English suit well pressed and he wore a low stiff collar), he presented his card at the hospital after scribbling "Representing The Newtown Blade" across his name.

FASCINATING BRIDE

Mrs. Angus Davidson McEwan, formerly Miss Pearl Hill, whose marriage took place on Tuesday evening.

Floral Setting For Wedding At St. Mark's

Miss Doris Ockwell Becomes Bride of Beverley C. Gilson

St. Mark's Church formed a charming floral setting yesterday evening at 8.30 o'clock for the marriage of Doris Margaret, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ockwell, 3226 Alder Street, and Mr. Beverley C. Gilson, younger son of Mr. A. Gilson and the late Mrs. Gilson, Rev. O. L. Jull performed the ceremony.

A profusion of lovely flowers in shades of pink and white had been arranged in the church for the occasion.

As the bride party entered the church, Mrs. F. W. L. Moore played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin." Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was played at the conclusion of the service.

The solemnity during the signing of the register was Miss Kathleen Clarke, who sang "Untill," accompanied by the organist. The bride, who was given away by her father, was preceded by the aisle by her two attendants, and was smartly gowned in ivory satin, which was fastened down the back with satin buttons. The skirt, which was gathered at the back, graduated to a slight train, and the sleeves, full to the elbows, ended in tight cuffs tapering over the wrists.

Her veil of embroidered net, which reached the floor at the back, was turned off her face with a coronet of orange blossoms, and instead of a bouquet she carried a white vellum-bound prayerbook with white streamers, showered with swansons.

The bride's sister, Miss Phyllis Ockwell, was the junior bridesmaid, in a pretty floor-length frock of primrose yellow georgette, edged with two rows of fringe, with bows of georgette caught to the shoulders with brilliant clasps. Over this she wore a graduated cape of frills tied beneath the chin, and a Marie Stuart cap of yellow net with a bandeau of flowers at the back, and she carried a bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

Miss Alma Carey, a cousin of the bride, was the other attendant, in a picturesque frock of pink lace, made with a series of frills from the waist down, to form a slight train, and worn with a shoulder cape fastened at the front of the Peter Pan collar, and fashioned with full-puff sleeves.

Her hat of pink lace had a stiff brim of frilled net, and she carried a bouquet of pale pink carnations and blue scabiosa.

Mr. Percy Gilson supported his bride. Escorting the guests to their seats were Mr. George Sturgeon and Mr. Alfred Ockwell, a brother of the bride.

After the service a large number of guests were welcomed at the home of the bride's parents, where pink and white flowers were artistically arranged. After the bride and groom had received the greetings of their friends, standing beneath a floral arch and bell, refreshments were served.

The wedding cake, set in folds of pink tulle, centred the supper table, which was lighted by tall pink tapers and decorated with vases of rosebuds at each corner. Mrs. Ockwell wore a midnight blue gown and a matching hat and a shoulder spray of roses.

After honeymoon in Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Gilson will take up their residence at Lake Hill. The bride went away in a mauve tailored silk frock, an orchid shade hat and a grey muskrat swaggar coat with matching grey accessories.

Wednesday, July 15, has been selected by the members for their annual picnic, which will be held at Cordova Bay.

The Lake Hill Women's Institute room was a veritable garden of gorgeous summer flowers on Monday afternoon when the ladies were hostesses at an afternoon tea given in honor of one of their members, Mrs. L. Gray, a recent bride.

The tea table was covered with a handsome linen drawn tea cloth, the handiwork of Mrs. Porter, who, with Mrs. Myles, was also responsible for the other decorations. An elegant silver basket of tiny pink roses and delicate blue flowers was used as a table centerpiece. At the tea urns were Mrs. Mercer Sr. and Mrs. Scott. Mrs. Scott herself being a bride of fifty years. After tea Mrs. Gray was presented with a handsome silver pie plate, the collective gift of the institute, and graciously voiced her thanks. Other guests arrived in time for tea when more girls were showered on the bride.

Woman M.P. Outlines Her Philosophy

"Live Today, Tomorrow Has Not Arrived, Says Miss Agnes Macphail in House of Commons"

Ottawa, June 11.—Agnes Macphail, U.F.O.-Labor Grey-Bruce, first woman member of the House of Commons, and a member for twelve years, today gave her four-point philosophy of life:

- "1. Cut out non-essentials. Don't do things which are no use to you and give neither help nor joy to others. Don't belong to clubs that are of no value to anybody and waste time and energy and make you less effective by blurring your personality."
- "2. Be natural. Polish the natural but do not distort it. All great souls are natural and simple."
- "3. Do not rely completely on any other human being however dear. We meet all life's greatest tests alone."
- "4. Live in the present. Yesterday is gone, tomorrow has not arrived, live today. Don't live for today only but in today."

Speaking to the graduating class of Ottawa Ladies College at a private dinner Miss Macphail said: "Life is a great teacher, but so slowly do we learn, life is nearly over before we have found out how to live. That is the best argument I know of the need of a world beyond."

Lady Mayoress Visits Ottawa

Ottawa, June 11.—Britain's youngest lady mayoress said today she would not mind sharing public life with a husband providing he was "the right sort." She is not an ardent feminist, though she did seem a little disappointed in Canadian girls' attitude towards sports. Miss Margaret Hall arrived in Ottawa to see the House of Parliament with her father, R. J. Hall, Lord Mayor of Liverpool, after traveling from England on the Queen Mary, journeying in "a lovely parlor car" to Niagara Falls "for a couple of days' breathers" and then going to Toronto for "a lot of civic receptions and things."

Not very long ago Miss Hall was a sports leader at Harrow Gate—English girls' school noted for "games"—where lacrosse addicts have difficulty in finding competitors from other countries. Last year United States schools sent a team which was beaten badly.

"I thought lacrosse was a Canadian game and that all the girls' schools would have teams here," she said.

The lady mayoress is sailing for home Friday from Montreal.

Meeting Tomorrow.—The Women's Parish Guild of Christ Cathedral will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Memorial Hall.

Many Guests At Wedding Ceremony

Miss Helen Prendergast Became Bride of Ralph K. Simpson

A wedding of interest to many Victoria and Saanich friends of both the bride and bridegroom was solemnized yesterday evening at 8 o'clock in the First United Church, when Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., united in marriage Miss Helen Lucille Prendergast, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Prendergast, Sevenoaks, Carey Road, and Mr. Ralph Kenneth Simpson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Simpson, 908 Market Street.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by the bride and groom, the front of the church being banked with a profusion of summer flowers and centered with a large floral arch, under which the bride and groom stood during the ceremony. Mr. George H. Peaker, church organist, played the wedding music, which included "Reverend Nuptials" (C. St. Sains); Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March; and also accompanied Miss Carol Menzies, who sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

IN TRIPLE SHEER
Entering the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride was attractively gowned in white triple sheer with a form-fitting skirt which gathered into a wide flare at the back, giving the appearance of a train. The bodice was attached to a V-shaped yoke by tiny tucks in the front and finished with a row of minute self-covered buttons at the back. The bishop sleeves gathered into tight-fitting cuffs at the wrists and the only ornament was a diamante clasp on the belt. Her veil was of embroidered net and was arranged on her head with a halo of net and held in place with a spray of orange blossoms. White accessories completed the outfit and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink bridal rose-buds, carnations and fern.

Miss Dorothy Prendergast acted as her sister's bridesmaid and chose a pale pink organza frock fashioned with a long full flared skirt. The round neckline was ornamented with a spray of pale blue organza flowers, while flowers of the same shade of blue were applied around the skirt just above the knees. A silver-brided bandeau decorated with small silver leaves adorned her hair, and she carried an arm bouquet of carnations and sweet peas tied with a blue satin ribbon. Mr. Douglas Baird acted as groomsmen and the ushers included Messrs. James B. Prendergast and William O. Findlay.

RECEPTION HELD
Following the marriage ceremony at the church a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride and bridegroom were assisted in welcoming their guests by Mrs. Prendergast, who chose for the occasion a Marina blue silk crepe dress fashioned with a lace yoke and lace sleeves and caught at the neck with brilliant clasps. With this she wore a blue-silk crepe hat and other matching accessories. Mrs. Simpson wore a black and white printed crepe dress with a long black coat of triple sheer and a black straw hat. Both wore corsage bouquets of carnations.

During the reception the bride and groom stood under a large white arch decorated with silver ribbons and a white bell. The reception room was decorated in a pink and white color scheme and a beautifully decorated wedding cake topped with a tiny silver bell, an embedded in pink suite, centered the refreshment table. A buffet supper was served by the following girl friends of the bride: The Misses Mae Simpson, Amelia Brydon, Doris Robertson, Winnie Robb, Reita Smith, Eleanor Barren, Ila Knowlton and June Todd.

The young couple left later on the midnight boat for Vancouver and other mainland points, where they will spend their honeymoon before making their home at 1024 Pendergast Street. For traveling the bride wore a navy crepe dress with a blue tweed coat and navy straw hat with other navy and grey accessories. Among the many handsome gifts received were a silver cream and sugar set on a silver tray from the members of the Young People's Society of the First United Church, where both the bride and bridegroom are popular members; a cheque from the groom's associates in the Enamel and Heating Company Limited, and a silver utility dish from the Eagle's Bible class of First United Church; a silver and pyrex plate dish from the First United tennis club and a linen cloth and serviettes from the First United Sunday School staff.

Disaffection over the stand of the city school board in closing the action over a recently-discharged official was voiced in a letter to the board from the Sons of England, read at the school body's meeting yesterday evening. Trustee P. E. George and Trustee W. G. Moreby objected to certain features of the letter which was received and filed.

Appreciation of improvement work at Victoria West School was expressed in a letter from the president of that district's Parent-Teacher Association read at the City School Board meeting yesterday evening.

Garden Festival Is Setting For Style

Lovely Summer Fashions Shown at Spencer's Today Amidst Floral Scene; To Be Repeated Tomorrow Afternoon

In a charming and original setting a striking style show opened this afternoon and will be repeated tomorrow afternoon in the dining-room of the store of David Spencer Ltd. By the clever arrangement of floral arches and screens, with masses of summer flowers to further the illusion, the show is staged in an enchanting garden scene.

Gay garden umbrellas, hammocks and awnings added realistic touches to the festival at which were shown by living models, styles for the beach, for garden parties, for sports and out-of-door wear, for the "teen age girls and for her more sophisticated sister and, for the grown-ups.

Everything exhibited was selected from the regular stock in the department. Nearly all the millinery was exclusively designed and made by Mrs. H. U. Knight, the milliner at David Spencer's Ltd.

A four-piece orchestra rendered charming selections during the afternoon and to further the appearance of a garden fete, refreshments were served from a long table, beautifully appointed and adorned with summer flowers.

FOR THE BEACH

Vivid coloring was featured in the beach garments, a lip-stick red couquette, suitable for lounging on the beach or for cycling being outstanding in color and design. The new tomboy sports model, a garment that is readily converted into shorts by unbuttoning the skirt, was shown in various bright colors.

"Mix-em" and "Match-em" were names well chosen for the suits shown for schoolgirls. These models were fashioned with cream flannel skirts, while the jackets were of such contrasting shades as paddy green, magenta, primrose yellow, etc., with delphinium blue and wistaria for those desiring less daring tones. Some of the all-white suits were worn with navy blue blouses.

The swaggar suit is still in vogue and is used extensively this summer with sports model as well as with printed silk frocks.

Top coats of cotton crash, to be worn over tailored suits were shown, an attractive one being of white and navy blue check design worn over a suit of oyster shade.

Designed for a dual purpose were many of the lovely afternoon gowns displayed, many of which at a moment's notice can be transformed into formal evening gowns by the doffing of the jacket or by the unfastening of the sleeves attached to the armholes with dome fasteners.

GARDEN FROCKS

Designed mainly for garden frocks were those of floral chiffon, some of which had white backgrounds with floral designs in pastel shades while many had black backgrounds with large vivid floral patterns. With one in the pastel shades was worn a hat of white braided organdie, with cart-wheel brim, banded with royal blue corded ribbon, and with low crown encircled with the same ribbon, with a tall wired bow of the ribbon placed directly in front of the crown.

Jackets of the material and capes of the material were worn with many of these models. With others were worn quilted cloaks of metallized crepe.

Gowns designated "cocktail" models were mostly featured in floral chiffon or net and silk, a distinctive one being of fine black silk net, trimmed with printed silk applique around the bottom of the long jacket and sleeves. With this was worn an unusual hat made by Mrs. Knight, composed of fruit in gay colorings on a pan-cake foundation held in place on the head with a band of green ribbon.

A copy of an original gown designed by Kallman and Morris was executed in aquamarine taffeta, with long full skirt touching the floor adorned with three rows of box-pleated ruchings at the bottom of the skirt, with a formal bodice over which was worn a short shoulder cape of the taffeta trimmed with rows of the box-pleated ruching. In keeping with the unusual gown was worn on the head a cluster of flowers in coral and ivory colorings, the same being placed in front over the forehead.

GRECIAN ROBE

Another outstanding afternoon gown was a Grecian robe of chartreuse chiffon, over which was draped in Grecian style, a full length cape of the chiffon while as an adornment for the head was worn a band of gold leaves. Sandals to match and a slave bangle furthered the classic impression in this model.

With a summer dance frock of broad coral was worn a brown straw hat, trimmed with a half-wreath of chrysanthemum petals. For use on the beach, were designed large hats of chip straw, crownless, with one model gown of figured georgette was worn a hat made of cornflower petals.

R. Hogarth, head of the mantle department, selected the models while displaying them were: Joan Bradford, Marion Clawson, Edith Chester, Gwen Fraser, Vera Hunter, Eileen McCaghy, Dolly McAlpine, Alice Skellern and Eileen Thomas.

Help Milk Fund

The sum of $174, was spent for milk for the undernourished children of the primary schools during May, it was reported at the final meeting for the season of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.D.E. in the headquarters, Union Building, last night with the Regent Mrs. J. W. Hudson presiding. A letter of greeting to members of the order from Mrs. Frank Stead, provincial president was read. Members were asked to help tag on Alexandra Rose Day, June 27. A rummage sale will be held on June 20, the place to be announced later, members and friends having discarded clothing to donate, please phone Mrs. Hudson, E 6010.

Mrs. W. Walker and Mrs. F. Jordan were appointed to arrange a bridge party in the early fall. Mrs. Frank Mulliner was welcomed into the chapter. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Hudson served delicious refreshments.

It's important to be well-suited this season . . .

So many types of suit are fashion-right this summer that almost any woman should easily find among our collection models that are individually becoming.

We've given much thought and care to selection of suits for every type of wear. This advice we'll gladly place at your service—should you hesitate between severely tailored or softly tailored lines—between the casual suit that's virtually a dress, and the type that's more like a coat—between men's wear fabrics and the sheer crepes, linens, taffetas.

Prices, of course, vary as widely as the fashions—but we're particularly proud of our values

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

As the water supply of each community differs, it is impossible to make any general statements about the way water should be treated, which will be universally applicable. Mothers should know the source of the water which they drink and should be conversant with its purity and cleanliness.

The usual large city water supply is pure and such water may be given to the child of six months or over without boiling it. The younger baby had best have boiled water, especially during the summer months. It may be boiled in large quantities, put aside in a covered glass fruit jar and served at room temperature. Warmed water—though not hot water—is apt to be nauseating.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES

During any seasonal epidemic it is advisable to boil water sometimes for the whole family, as well as for the children.

Bottled water can be purchased for use of the family, or the baby, if to boil all drinking water seems too arduous a task. Such bottled water is also convenient to use when one is traveling and making rapid changes of water from one community to another.

TAKE CARE WHEN CAMPING

Our leaflet, "Traveling with Baby," enumerates other precautions it is wise to take when on vacation trips with children. It may be had for a self-addressed envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

When a family obtains its drinking water from wells, or cisterns, these should be examined frequently to be sure of their purity. Water from camp sites, used only seasonally, should be most carefully examined as a protection against disease. Seepage into such water sites can all too easily contaminate the water and make it dangerous for drinking purposes.

Victoria Bethel.—Victoria Bethel No. 2. Order of Job's Daughters, will hold a card party tomorrow in the community room, Shrine Temple, at 8:30 p.m. Bridge and court whist will be played. Information may be obtained from Miss M. Clark, E 8180, Miss P. Loughheed, E 9754, or Miss W. Williams, E 4786

Winding Road Gives West Saanich Highway Irresistible Charm

The call of a winding road that wanders in and out between great trees, or drops out of sight over the brow of some high hill, is irresistible to many.

The West Saanich Highway is a winding road. It wanders through a smiling countryside, dips down into the shadows of cool wooded dells, then out and on into the warm sunlight, along the shore of the famous Saanich Arm. On its way it circles picturesque farm lands, where fields are a patchwork of green and gold; quaint old churches built far over the years when the district of Saanich was a pioneer community. It touches the foot of Spanish Mountain, where one of the greatest observatories in America is situated, and where a perfect panoramic view of the Saanich Peninsula is to be found. It leads to famous Butchart's Gardens, fairland of color and flowers, known and talked of all over the world. Curving onward, the highway touches the shoreline... sandy beaches, swimming, and some of the finest fishing on Vancouver Island.

The West Saanich Highway boasts two delightful vacation districts in its length—Brentwood and Deep Cove. Both are situated on the shore of Saanich Arm, where the warm sun shines, where the water is warm, and where the fishing is perfect.

BRENTWOOD BAY

Two roads lead from the main highway to Brentwood, tucked in a wooded valley on a warm, sunny slope. Marchant's Road winds down through the trees to end in the very garden of "The Anchorage." Here is a perfect little summer place, almost hidden in the great tall trees. There are lovely cabins, modern in every way, even more pretentious cottages for those who wish them. There is a main lodge, where delicious home-cooked meals are served. The grounds of "The Anchorage" border the water. There are rustic seats and tables for alfresco meals and a safe bathing beach for the little ones. Boats and launches are for hire.

Verdier Road, further along the main highway, also leads to Brentwood Bay. Where it curves to meet the shore—there is Brent Lodge. A small summer hotel, delightfully situated on a sloping bank above the blue waters of the bay. With its rustic exterior and lovely garden of flowers, it presents an enticing picture to vacation seekers. The rooms are large and well appointed. There is a wide veranda where one may sit and watch the sunsets, and a dining-room famous for its delicious salmon dinners, as well as other tempting meals. In the big lounge and around the wide fireplace of Brent Lodge many fishermen have gathered from the far corners of the world.

DEEP COVE

Leaving Brentwood, the road winds once more through the rolling fields of Mount Newton district, past Ardmore Golf Course, along the curving sands of Patricia Bay and on to Deep Cove, where the waters are still and deep and summer days are long and filled with fun.

"THE POOL"—IN BUTCHART'S GARDENS NEAR WEST SAANICH HIGHWAY

Wilson's Inn at Deep Cove is a homelike summer resort, built on the order of a big rambling country home. There is a lovely garden where flowers bloom at will, tennis court and many fruit trees. It is beside the water, and the big windows of the living-room and dining-room mirror a view that is an ever-changing delight. The rooms are comfortable, everything is spotlessly clean. There is, of course, fishing, boating, swimming and hiking. And Wilson's Inn is famed for the excellence of its chicken dinners, cooked southern style.

It is at Deep Cove that the West Saanich Highway gradually narrows curves up over a hill, then down through tall trees to the water's edge. "Land's End" it is called. The end of the trail! A grassy space above the water with a beautiful view of the water and the hills just beyond. Where gulls dip and swoop, where light and shadow play along the shore. A place to rest, and for those who follow the highway to its very end—a place to remember!

Oyster River Is Fishermen's Resort

Many who follow the song of the reel and line believe that to flick deep silent pools with a fast dancing fly—to see the quick racing shadow leap to the bait—is to knock at the door of the fishermen's paradise.

If this be so—then pack a reel and line quickly, choose the brightest flies—jump in a car and head straight up the Island Highway. Follow the road until you reach that fine straight bit just beyond Courtenay. Go on through Merville until you come to the bridge over Oyster River. Slow here—eyes right—for here indeed is the fishermen's paradise.

Percy Elsey, an hotel man of many years' experience, has taken the old tumbledown building that has stood at the bend of the Oyster River for many years, and remodeled it and rebuilt it into one of the finest fishing lodges on the island. The rooms have all been redecorated and painted. Everything is clean and neat. Electric lights have been installed, together with modern plumbing throughout and a telephone has been put in. Mr. Elsey has renamed this delightful hotel—"The Fishermen's Lodge." Very evidently it is intended for fishermen—and be it said there is nothing fussy or unbecomingly in any room in the lodge.

Oyster River has long been famous as a fishing centre. Now with this modern lodge—so close to the highway, barely 100 yards from some of the finest pools on the island—and for those who find the lure of the springs and cohoes irresistible not five minutes' walk from the mouth of the river—the river should become increasingly popular as the doorway to the fishermen's paradise.

Autonomy Move Before Boards

Trade Bodies at Qualicum Told of Need For Island Province

Qualicum Beach, June 11.—The purpose of the newly-formed Island Provincial Association was placed before the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island here yesterday evening by H. Despard Twigg, former Conservative member of the provincial Legislature, and organizer for the new group.

The gathering, representing business and professional men of the island, was told the future of the island lay in their hands and it was their duty to themselves and their children to insure future prosperity.

At the outset Mr. Twigg gave his assurance the new organization was purely non-partisan and was without political color of any description.

The move, he said, was a result of the poor and unfair treatment which had been handed Victoria and the island since 1866. Even Sir James Douglas, when the province of British Columbia was created, had warned there should be no tampering with the policies of keeping the island and mainland politically separate.

It was only the seeking of autonomy which would provide the constitutional means for righting the injustice, Mr. Twigg declared.

He appealed strongly for support to the movement, telling his audience Vancouver Island never received a fair share of expenditure for the revenue she produced.

Mr. Twigg was not prepared to say what steps might be taken to establish a provincial government on Vancouver Island, but he said before anything could be done it was necessary for the island people to become "island conscious."

Reeve William Crouch, Saanich, said he was at all times prepared to work for the benefit of the island as everyone should be, but he was not prepared to take a definite stand as to whether separation from the present province would be a wise move.

W. T. Straith presided at the gathering, which was a dinner meeting held in conjunction with the Boards of Trade convention.

BY MOONLIGHT

Unusually bright moonlight wasn't responsible for the vividness of this scene picturing the western link of the world's longest bridge—the San Francisco-Oakland Bay span. Infrared film, with which cameras can penetrate the most distant haze, was used to catch the gleaming structure and the slope and the clouds beyond the inky bay.

Honor Memory Of Late B. C. Nicholas

The Victoria School Board, in session for the first time since the death of B. C. Nicholas, yesterday evening expressed its deep regret over the loss of the late editor of The Victoria Daily Times.

In a resolution presented by Trustees Mrs. D. L. MacLaurie, the board expressed its appreciation of the service the late Mr. Nicholas had rendered to the city of Victoria in particular, and to the youth of Victoria in particular.

Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman of the board, added his words to those of the resolution.

The board members stood in silent tribute to their departed friend.

Constitution Change Opposed

Senator O. Turgeon Objects to Canada Altering B.N.A. Act

Canadian Press
Ottawa, June 11.—Belief that any steps to give the Dominion Parliament the right to amend the Canadian constitution might cause a union of some of the provinces with the United States was sounded in the Senate yesterday by Hon. O. Turgeon, Liberal, Gloucester, N.B.

Turgeon was speaking in the resumed debate on the inquiry of Senator George Lynch-Staunton, Conservative, Hamilton, Ont., whether the government proposed to seek power from the British Parliament to amend the British North America Act, Canada's constitution.

The British North America Act was a "sacred contract" between the Dominion and the provinces, he said. He did not believe the provinces would endorse any proposal the Dominion Parliament should have power to amend the constitution.

Senator Arthur Marcotte, Conservative, Saskatchewan, adjourned the debate.

Conservatives Give Dr. Tolmie Welcome

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P. elect for Victoria, was given a rousing welcome at a meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association at the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, yesterday evening.

Plans were laid for consolidation of Conservative forces as members declared that the issue would be between the Conservatives and the C.C.F. in the next provincial election which they believed was in the offing.

Arrangements were made to send forty-eight delegates to the provincial convention of the party to be held in Vancouver on June 22. Choice of a leader and adoption of a platform would be the chief business at this convention, it was indicated.

School Board Keeping Own Buildings Boss

A suggestion from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association forwarded by the City Council to the school board, advocating school building supervision be placed under the city building inspector, was heard by the school board yesterday evening.

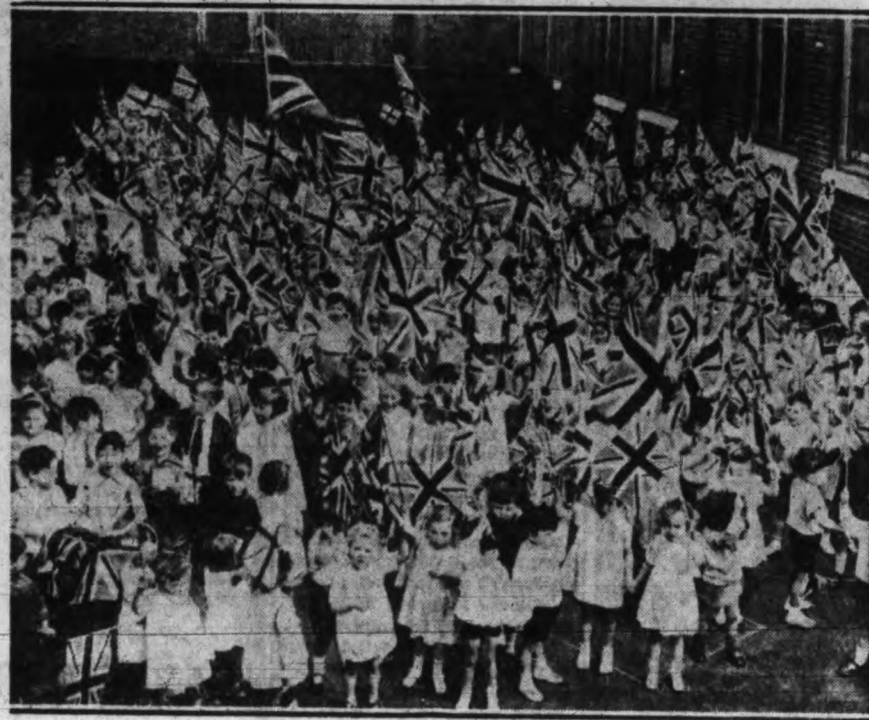

In view of the peculiarities connected with school maintenance, Trustee P. E. George, building and grounds chairman, expressed the view the board would be served to better advantage under its present system.

Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman of the board, concurred, stating the supervision was such that it would be better left as it was. He meant no reflection on the city building inspector, he said.

The letter will be acknowledged but no change will be made.

Use of Victoria High School for the Department of Education's annual summer school was granted by the city school board yesterday evening, subject to the usual conditions covering the school for such purposes.

First Lamb Show In Saanich Draws Crowd

Norman Whittaker Officially Opens Sale; 200 Lambs Entered; Five-legged Freak Centre of Attraction; Results

Despite an overcast sky and occasional showers, the first annual lamb show and sale of the North and South Saanich Sheep Breeders' Association drew 250 entries and 300 people to the agricultural grounds at Saanichton yesterday afternoon.

Over 200 lambs were bleating in their stalls when Norman Whittaker, M.P.P., officially declared the show open at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Whittaker said this type of event encouraged the breeding of sheep, a necessary thing. In 1934 British Columbia imported 600,000 pounds of mutton from other provinces and 24,000 pounds from the United States.

Mr. Whittaker noted that at the last census there were 173,100 sheep throughout the province, which was an increase over the previous year. He hoped there would be further increases.

George Clark, president of the sheep breeders, introduced Mr. Whittaker.

FREAK LAMB

One of the centres of attraction at the fair was the now famous five-legged lamb of the Derrinbergs. This strange freak was born with a fifth leg growing out of its neck.

Instead of shuffling up as one might expect, the extra leg has grown and is as large as any other leg. It appears to have no bone where it joins with the neck though there is a definite bone farther down. The leg hangs like a huge tassel. The animal appeared to be as frisky and healthy as any of the lambs.

William MacGillivray of Regina, well-known prairie sheep judge, awarded the prizes, assisted by D. E. Taylor, local butcher. Mr. MacGillivray said an excellent class of lambs was shown.

In the best pure-bred ewe class Mr. Ecclestone won from W. Derrinberg.

The smallest girl, Violet Turner, and the largest pet were a good enough combination to win in the pet lamb contest.

James Turner, Cadboro Bay, who showed fifty-five lambs, won the championship for market lambs.

SHEEP DOG TRIAL

Only one dog managed to corral the sheep in the sheep dog trials which was one of the features of the programme. The dog, at his master's command, had to round up half a dozen sheep let loose from a truck at the other end of the field and guide them through a twenty-foot gate into a corral.

No prize was awarded, due to the fact that the dog exceeded the time limit. Some amusement was caused when a group of sheep escaped from the dog and entered a stall in which were hanging a number of carcasses. The sheep for the trials were provided by A. Locke.

The sheep shearing contest had to be cancelled owing to the rain. Those on the committee in charge of the show were George Clark, Jim Turner, Art Locke, Bob Mercer and Bob Derrinberg.

The show was served by the ladies in the Agricultural Hall during the afternoon.

The complete results were as follows:

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

TRICKS FOR MAKING BEST USE OF MEAT ARE REAL ECONOMY By MARY E. DAGUE

Thoughtlessness in cooking steaks and chops may make them an extravagant luxury, sure enough. They are not so, necessarily, to begin with.

Porterhouse steak is carelessly prepared in many households so that it is not given its full value. Aside from the waste in bone and fat, the tail usually is considered unfit to eat. More often than not it is over-cooked before the rest of the steak is done and appears on the table an unappetizing burnt offering.

But the tail has a fine flavor and if it is cooked properly is just as desirable as the tenderloin itself. Try trimming the meat from the fat. Put this piece of lean meat through the food chopper twice. Season with 1/4 teaspoon salt and a few grains of pepper. Mix with a few dried bread crumbs and a tablespoon or two of milk. Stir lightly with a fork until thoroughly mixed and shape in a small cake the thickness of the steak.

BROIL THE STEAK

Put the cake into the side of the steak and bring the fatty end of the tail around it. Run a skewer through the fat and meat cake into the loin of the steak to hold it securely. Broil as usual. Remove the skewer before sending to the table.

Rib lamb chops are cheaper than loin, but they, too, may be served just as attractively if boned and rolled. Ask your butcher to "French" the chops for you. To do this he will scrape the meat from the bone. Then you can disjoint the rib from the bit of back bone and curl the meaty end back against the eye of the chop. Fasten with a skewer to keep in shape during cooking. Broil as usual and remove skewer before serving.

Cheep cuts can be run through the food chopper several times and made into flakes that can be cooked quickly and are tender and appetizing. It is true that most of the quickly cooked cuts of meat are the expensive ones and few of us want to spend long hours in the kitchen cooking the cheaper cuts so the shopping of the coarser-grained cuts makes them tender enough to cook quickly.

Choose your vegetables and dessert just as carefully when you build your dinner around a tricky piece of meat as you would if you were serving fillet mignon. Try this menu: French lamb chops with potatoes in parsley butter. Julienne carrots in orange cream, a salad of tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese and chives and a dessert of pineapple ice with sponge cake.

JULIENNE CARROTS IN ORANGE CREAM

Cut carrots in shoestrings and cook in boiling water until tender, letting the water cook away. Season with salt and pepper and a bit of sugar and pour over one tablespoon orange juice to one cup carrots. Add cream to barely cover and simmer until cream thickens and coats carrots. Sprinkle with minced mint and serve.

Autonomy Move Before Boards

Trade Bodies at Qualicum Told of Need for Island Province

Qualicum Beach, June 11.—The purpose of the newly-formed Island Provincial Association was placed before the annual meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island here yesterday evening by H. Despard Twigg, former Conservative member of the provincial Legislature, and organizer for the new group.

The gathering, representing business and professional men of the island, was told the future of the island lay in their hands and it was their duty to themselves and their children to insure future prosperity.

At the outset, Mr. Twigg gave his assurance the new organization was purely non-partisan and was without political color of any description. The move, he said, was a result of the poor and unfair treatment which had been handed Victoria and the island since 1866. Even Sir James Douglas, when the province of British Columbia was created, had warned there should be no tampering with the policies of keeping the island and mainland politically separate.

It was only the seeking of autonomy which would provide the constitutional means for righting the injustice, Mr. Twigg declared.

He appealed strongly for support to the movement, telling his audience Vancouver Island never received a fair share of expenditure for the revenue she produced. Mr. Twigg was not prepared to say what steps might be taken to establish a provincial government on Vancouver Island, but he said before anything could be done it was necessary for the island people to become "island conscious."

Reeve, William Crouch, Saanich, said he was at all times prepared to work for the benefit of the island as everyone should be, but he was not prepared to take a definite stand as to whether separation from the present province would be a wise move.

W. T. Straith presided at the gathering, which was a dinner meeting held in conjunction with the Boards of Trade convention.

Unusually bright moonlight wasn't responsible for the vividness of this scene picturing the western link of the world's longest bridge—the San Francisco-Oakland Bay span. The board members stood in silent tribute to their departed friend.

Constitution Change Opposed

Senator O. Turgeon Objects to Canada Altering B.N.A. Act

Ottawa, June 11.—Belief that any steps to give the Dominion Parliament the right to amend the Canadian constitution might cause a union of some of the provinces with the United States was sounded in the Senate yesterday by Hon. O. Turgeon, Liberal, Gloucester, N.B.

There was a growing desire in the republic to bring Canada into the autonomy of the United States, the veteran parliamentarian declared. "But," he stated, "Canada's material links with Great Britain must be maintained."

Sensor Turgeon was speaking in the resumed debate on the inquiry of Senator George Lynch-Staunton, Conservative, Hamilton, Ont., whether the government proposed to seek power from the British Parliament to amend the British North America Act, Canada's constitution.

The British North America Act was a "sacred contract" between the Dominion and the provinces, he said. He did not believe the provinces would endorse any proposal the Dominion Parliament should have power to amend the constitution.

Sensor Arthur Marcotte, Conservative, Saskatchewan, adjourned the debate.

Conservatives Give Dr. Tolmie Welcome

Hon. Dr. S. P. Tolmie, M.P. elect for Victoria, was given a rousing welcome at a meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association at the Conservative rooms, Campbell Building, yesterday evening.

Plans were laid for consolidation of Conservative forces as members declared that the issue would be between the Conservatives and the C.C.F. in the next provincial election which they believed was in the offing.

Arrangements were made to send forty-eight delegates to the provincial convention of the party to be held in Vancouver on June 29. Choice of a leader and adoption of a platform would be the chief business at this convention, it was indicated.

School Board Keeping Own Buildings Boss

A suggestion from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association, forwarded by the City Council to the school board, advocating school building supervision be placed under the city building inspector, was heard by the school board yesterday evening.

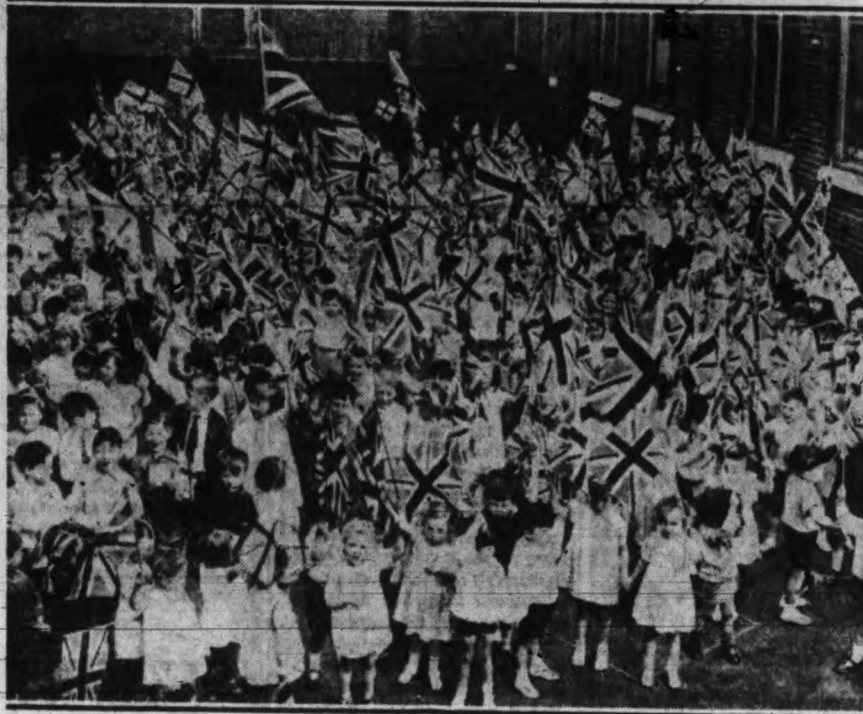

In view of the peculiarities connected with school maintenance, Trustee P. E. George, building and grounds chairman, expressed the view the board would be served to better advantage under its present system.

Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman of the board, concurred, stating the supervision was such that it would be better left as it was. He meant no reflection on the city building inspector, he said.

The letter will be acknowledged but no change will be made.

Use of Victoria High School for the Department of Education's annual summer school was granted by the city school board yesterday evening, subject to the usual conditions covering the school for such purposes.

First Lamb Show In Saanich Draws Crowd

Norman Whittaker Officially Opens Sale; 200 Lambs Entered; Five-legged Freak Centre of Attraction; Results

Despite an overcast sky and occasional showers, the first annual lamb show and sale of the North and South Saanich Sheep Breeders' Association drew 250 entries and 300 people to the agricultural grounds at Saanichton yesterday afternoon.

Over 200 lambs were bleating in their stalls when Norman Whittaker, M.P.P., officially declared the show open at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. Whittaker said this type of event encouraged the breeding of sheep, a necessary thing. In 1935 British Columbia imported 600,000 pounds of mutton from other provinces and 24,000 pounds from the United States.

Mr. Whittaker noted that at the last census there were 173,100 sheep throughout the province, which was an increase over the previous year. He hoped there would be further increases.

George Clark, president of the sheep breeders, introduced Mr. Whittaker.

FREAK LAMB

One of the centres of attraction at the fair was the now famous five-legged lamb of the Derrinbergs. This strange freak was born with a fifth leg growing out of its neck. Instead of shriveling up as one might expect, the extra leg has grown and is as large as other legs. It appears to have no bone where it joins with the neck though there is a definite bone farther down. The leg hangs like a huge tassel. The animal appeared to be as frisky and healthy as any of the lambs.

William MacGillivray of Regina, well-known prairie sheep judge, awarded the prizes, assisted by D. E. Taylor, local butcher. Mr. MacGillivray said an excellent class of lambs was shown.

In the best pure-bred ram lamb class of any breed, a Shropshire owned by T. K. Harrap beat out Charley Ecclestone's Kerry Hill. This young champion was one of the lambs donated to finance the show, and was auctioned to R. Maher for $10.

In the best pure-bred ewe class Mr. Ecclestone won from W. Derrinberg.

The smallest girl, Violet Turner, and the largest pet were a good enough combination to win in the pet lamb contest.

James Turner, Cadboro Bay, who showed fifty-five lambs, won the championship for market lambs.

SHEEP-DOG TRIAL

Only one dog managed to corral the sheep in the sheep dog trials which was one of the features of the programme. The dog, at his master's command, had to round up half a dozen sheep let loose from a truck at the other end of the field and guide them through a twenty-foot gate into a corral.

No prize was awarded, due to the fact that the dog exceeded the time limit. Some amusement was caused when a group of sheep escaped from the dog and entered a stall in which were hanging a number of carcasses. The sheep for the trials were provided by A. Locke.

The sheep shearing contest had to be cancelled owing to the rain.

Those on the committee in charge of the show were George Clark, Jim Turner, Art Locke, Bob Mercer and Bob Derrinberg.

Tea was served by the ladies in the Agricultural Hall during the afternoon.

The complete results were as follows:

Stir lightly with a fork until thoroughly mixed and shape in a small cake the thickness of the steak.

BROIL THE STEAK

Put the cake into the side of the steak and bring the fatty end of the tail around it. Run a skewer through the fat and meat cake into the loin of the steak to hold it securely. Broil as usual. Remove the skewer before sending to the table.

Rib lamb chops are cheaper than loin, but they, too, may be served just as attractively if boned and rolled. Ask your butcher to "French" the chops for you. To do this he will scrape the meat from the bone. Then you can disjoint the ribs from the bit of back bone and curl the meaty end back against the eye of the chop. Fasten with a skewer to keep in shape during cooking. Broil as usual and remove skewer before serving.

Cheap cuts can be run through the food chopper several times and made into flakes that can be cooked quickly and are tender and appetizing. It is true that most of the quickly cooked cuts of meat are the expensive ones and few of us want to spend long hours in the kitchen cooking the cheaper cuts so the shopping of the coarser-grained cuts make them tender enough to cook quickly.

Strawberry Vale

At a bridge party held by Mrs. D. Johnston, Helen Road, recently, high scores were won by Mrs. R. Jeeves and Mrs. K. Mills, and the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. A. Johnson. The guests included Mesdames W. H. Johnston, A. Johnson, A. Hansen, Deane-Cox, A. Veitch, W.

Roskelley, R. Mills, C. D. Donaldson and R. Jeeves.

The members of the Strawberry Vale bridge club were entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Jones, High Street. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. F. Gorton, first; Mrs. G. Austin, second; and Mrs. J. Jones, third. The guests included Mesdames C. Riche, E. Grouthage, H. Pink, D. Johnston, H. Hout, H. Huntington, J. Jones, B. Hitchcock, G. Austin, S. Rodman, F. Gorton and Miss Gertrude Riche.

It is likely that pictures of three young Scottish lassies of Victoria will find their way into almost all of the 225 cities in every state of the union from which the delegates came.

Almost every member of the party carried a camera, and all stopped to snap Lillian Grant, who piped the ship in to the wharf to the tune of "Cock of the North" and "The Road to the Isles," and her two attendants, Jessie Pollock and Ian Robertson.

Miss Grant's piping seemed to be a thing of special interest to the party so much so that she had to stand on the Empress Hotel lawn and give a command performance while the visitors stood around and stamped their feet in time to her song.

On their arrival here, the majority of the delegates headed up town, and made the round of Victoria's stores, window-shopping in the front of the antique displays and buying postcards to send back home on their return to Seattle.

Later the party reassembled at the Empress Hotel for a great banquet which taxed the facilities of the hotel to the full.

WELCOME BY MAYOR

Mayor David Leeming extended a brief welcome to the visitors, telling them something of Victoria's history and inviting them to return for a fuller exploration of the city and district.

The party alighted for home on the Marguerite shortly after 8:30 o'clock. Caspar W. Clark, Seattle, who was in charge of the trip to this city, took time out on his way up from the dock to the Empress to explain the purpose and extent of the American Institute of Banking.

LARGEST ORGANIZATION

It had the distinction of being the largest educational organization in the United States, he said. The total membership was 39,000, against 32,000 for Columbia University, with all the extra-mural departments included.

The institute belonged entirely to the younger members of bank staffs, and was designed to give training in a variety of subjects related to their business. A regular course of educational classes was arranged, at the conclusion of which examinations were held and graduation certificates granted.

The annual conventions served to round out and correlate this educational work, with special sectional meetings being devoted to such subjects as management, credits, auditing, accounting, economics, public speaking and common law. In addition senior bankers gave addresses to larger meetings on a variety of subjects.

The present convention, said Mr. Clark, had so far been highly successful. More than 1,500 young men and women were taking part in the conferences, which started last Monday and will end tomorrow evening.

After that Mr. Clark refused to talk any more business, smiled, and followed the happy young men and women, many of them wearing fresh hats and coats, towards the stores up-town.

Young Bankers Relax on Trip

Delegates to Seattle Convention, Numbering 1,170, Here Yesterday

Relaxing after three days of conferences and sectional meetings, 1,170 of the younger men and women in the banking business, bearing on their lips the names of every major city in the United States, spent three hours in Victoria yesterday evening.

The party was made up of delegates to the annual convention of the American Institute of Banking, the educational division of the American Bankers' Association, now being held in Seattle.

They docked at the Belleville Street wharf of the C.P.R. at 5:30 o'clock, swarming all over the bunting-decked St. Princess Marguerite which they had chartered for the occasion.

Customs and immigration delays were forgotten, and the young bankers came ashore in two steady streams, using both the upper and lower gangways. Some of the more active ones even scorned gangplanks and swung themselves ashore from stanchion to piling in the Tarsan manner.

A delegation of local bankers, headed by J. W. Ruggles, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, greeted officials of the institute at the dock.

PIPER POPULAR

It is likely that pictures of three young Scottish lassies of Victoria will find their way into almost all of the 225 cities in every state of the union from which the delegates came.

Almost every member of the party carried a camera, and all stopped to snap Lillian Grant, who piped the ship in to the wharf to the tune of "Cock of the North" and "The Road to the Isles," and her two attendants, Jessie Pollock and Ian Robertson.

Miss Grant's piping seemed to be a thing of special interest to the party so much so that she had to stand on the Empress Hotel lawn and give a command performance while the visitors stood around and stamped their feet in time to her song.

On their arrival here, the majority of the delegates headed up town, and made the round of Victoria's stores, window-shopping in the front of the antique displays and buying postcards to send back home on their return to Seattle.

Later the party reassembled at the Empress Hotel for a great banquet which taxed the facilities of the hotel to the full.

WELCOME BY MAYOR

Mayor David Leeming extended a brief welcome to the visitors, telling them something of Victoria's history and inviting them to return for a fuller exploration of the city and district.

The party alighted for home on the Marguerite shortly after 8:30 o'clock. Caspar W. Clark, Seattle, who was in charge of the trip to this city, took time out on his way up from the dock to the Empress to explain the purpose and extent of the American Institute of Banking.

LARGEST ORGANIZATION

It had the distinction of being the largest educational organization in the United States, he said. The total membership was 39,000, against 32,000 for Columbia University, with all the extra-mural departments included.

The institute belonged entirely to the younger members of bank staffs, and was designed to give training in a variety of subjects related to their business. A regular course of educational classes was arranged, at the conclusion of which examinations were held and graduation certificates granted.

The annual conventions served to round out and correlate this educational work, with special sectional meetings being devoted to such subjects as management, credits, auditing, accounting, economics, public speaking and common law. In addition senior bankers gave addresses to larger meetings on a variety of subjects.

The present convention, said Mr. Clark, had so far been highly successful. More than 1,500 young men and women were taking part in the conferences, which started last Monday and will end tomorrow evening.

After that Mr. Clark refused to talk any more business, smiled, and followed the happy young men and women, many of them wearing fresh hats and coats, towards the stores up-town.

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

IT IS, UNFORTUNATELY, a very rare occasion when an adult stands before a gathering of schoolboy athletes at the close of a sports meet and hands them, straight from the shoulder, words that contain something more than conventional advice. Dr. Willard Brewster, M.A., D.D., Vancouver, furnished one of these exceptional occasions when he addressed the University School boys at the close of their meet last Saturday.

Most speakers, on similar occasions, go to long lengths to urge their hearers to carry on in the "battle of life" the sportsmanship they showed on the field. They lead the boys to believe that business, and life generally, is just a well-played game on a larger scale. They omit mention of the hazards, foul balls and what-have-you their sophisticated minds know the boys will encounter when they step into the business world.

True, Dr. Brewster remarked on that old-timer about the Battle of Waterloo being won on the playing fields of Eton, etc., but he did it to illustrate the possibility of building on the sports fields a spirit for world peace. He suggested they inject into business life some of the sportsmanship they had shown, but did not make the mistake of inferring they would find the unadulterated sports spirit in the world if they would enter on leaving school.

After a year or two layoff, the Junior Olympics are to be revived this summer in Vancouver on July 5. Although rather late in the day to produce any startling discoveries in the track and field line with any bearing on the Olympic Games this summer, they will be a feature attraction in Junior British Columbia track and field this season and the meet should be an interesting one from a local point of view.

Last year there were two well-known local runners who were without a doubt, made good in a Junior Olympic meet had there been one. Paul Rowe, blond giant of the cinder path, would have been within the age limit of under nineteen years and certainly showed the form that would have carried him through for a win in one of the sprints and probably all the weight events.

As the qualifying time for the 100-yard dash is set at 10.4-5 seconds, Lorn McGregor, red-headed sprinter, still within the age limit, should have no trouble making it this year. Bill Dale as middle distance man would have had no trouble filling the bill. These boys, however, with the exception of McGregor, have graduated into senior company and have higher things to aim for this year. The gap left vacant in junior company is where Freddy Smith, Grant Williams of Nanaimo and several problems come in.

Young Smith is the most promising junior in local company and still being eligible for intermediate competition, has a long way to go yet. Williams and Smith are primarily sprinters. In the island track and field championships at Nanaimo last year, Williams won the under eighteen century dash in 10.1-5 and has showed continued good form since. McGregor placed second to Williams in that meet. These three, with several other youngsters, are shaping into good runners.

The Junior Olympics provide one of the foundations for British Columbia's track and field hopes and their revival will do a great deal toward furthering interest in running in the province.

Willows Event Attracts Entry Well Over 200

Judge Alex. Stewart, Chicago, Will Pass on Outstanding Canines

Show Commences At 10 o'clock

With an entry list of well over 200 assured the annual championship show of the Victoria City Kennel Club will be held on Saturday in the main building at the Willows exhibition grounds. Judging will get under way at 10 o'clock with Alex. Stewart, Chicago, passing on all breeds. All canines must be benched half an hour previous.

When the final count is made there will be a small margin between the entries in the terrier and sporting groups. Cairns and Sealyhams have come in particularly strong closely followed by the wire-haired fox terriers. Scottish terriers will also have a strong representation and included in this breed is the winner of best of all breeds at the show last year. Smooth-haired fox terriers are a stronger entry than usual.

In the sporting group cocker and springer spaniels are two top entries, with a good entry of English setters in the running. Included in this group are five pointers, a breed that has not been represented so well for many years. Frank Topp Turner, Victoria, the oldest exhibitor on the Pacific Coast, is responsible for two entries in this breed. Boston terriers, closely followed by bulldogs top the entries in the "non-sporting" group. Pomeranians head the entries in the toy group. Included in this group are three Mexican chihuahuas.

German shepherds head the entries in the working group closely followed by collies. The latter breed is better represented than previous years. Smooth-haired dogs, a breed seldom seen on exhibition, will be well represented.

The King's Daughters under whose auspices the show is being held, will have full charge of the dining-room and will serve luncheon, afternoon tea and supper.

Included in the big out-of-town entry are the following: Carnation Farm, Carnation, Washington with three Scottish terriers; Mrs. G. A. Stiller, Tacoma, with two Scottish terriers; H. R. Wilkinson, Yakima, with one cocker spaniel; Gladys Peers, New Westminster, with one Kerry blue; Mrs. W. L. McDougall, Salem, Oregon, with one Scottish terrier; C. F. Baker, Forks, Wash., with one dachshund; J. Forbes, Vancouver, with one pointer; Mrs. Sweeney, Vancouver, with three cairn terriers; Wildwood Kennels, New Westminster, with one cairn terrier and one West Highland white; J. Rowe, Vancouver, with two Yorkshire terriers; Mrs. Z. Smith, Seattle, with one Pekingese; Mrs. Kay, Hamilton, Seattle, with two Pekingese; B. C. McColelough, Vancouver, with three Mexican chihuahuas; Miss E. Dodds, Vancouver, with one Irish setter; Alandale Kennels, New Westminster, with one collie; J. M. Miller, Seattle, with two collies; J. ## Husky Crews On Way East Seattle, June 11.—Three well-conditioned University of Washington crews were on a train headed east today for the annual Puget Sound regatta, June 22.

The party of thirty-eight left last night.

"The men are in perfect physical condition," said Coach Al Librickson at the depot. "They only need light workouts in the east to put them in working order for the national championships."

The Huskies will compete in the varsity, junior varsity and freshman races on the Hudson River, and in the varsity and four-oared races later at the Princeton, N.J., Olympic trials.

SPENCERS WIN M'KAY SHIELD

Defeat James Bay Wanderers at Athletic Park By 1 to 0 Score

Displaying all the good form that has been characteristic of them during the season, Spencers outought James Bay Wanderers 1 to 0 yesterday afternoon at Athletic Park to gain possession of the McKay Shield for Wednesday Football League competition.

A timely goal by Bob Brown nine minutes before the final whistle saved the situation for Spencers. The department store boys had played their way during most of the game and kept a rain of shots on Gadsdell's net. The Wanderers' goalie had his hands full stopping some pretty hot ones all the way through the game, only to be beaten by a high lob from the right winger.

In defence of his net Gadsdell was well backed up by George Barnes and Bob White, Wanderers' fullbacks, who turned in a steady exhibition of checking and clearing.

The teams battled for eighty minutes without any score until the final minutes of play, when Brown came through with his shot.

Wanderers' scoring chances were spoiled by the inability of their forwards to work together.

Only the splendid work of Norm Stewart prevented the James Bay boys from netting the equalizer.

P. Shrimpton refereed.

The teams were: Spencers—Stewartson, Munro, Colton, L. Bradley, Moir, B. Bradley, Brown, Speller, Clarke, Collins and Stewart.

James Bay Wanderers—C. Saddler, White, Barnes, W. Sadler, Fieldhouse, Bourne, Bail, Thame, Belford, Gelling and Garnot.

TRAGEDIES TO FAIRY TALES

Strange as it seems, Hans Christian Andersen, destined as an adult to become one of the world's greatest writers of children's fairy tales, began his literary career as a child writing morbid tragedies.

Andersen learned to read and write in a charity school where he was taken when nine years old. By the time he was thirteen, he had written his first manuscript, "Aber and Elvira," a violent tragedy in which every character ended in gruesome death.

Today his "Ugly Duckling," "The Constant Tin Soldier," "Thumbelina" and others translated from the original Danish, enthrall millions of children throughout the world.

Colonist Bicycle Race On Tomorrow

Large Entry Certain For Fourteenth Annual Event; Many Fine Prizes Being Offered; Will Get Started at 7.30 o'clock

Tomorrow night will be a big one in the life of the bicycle riders when the fourteenth annual Colonist race will be staged. A fine entry has been secured, and the competition will no doubt feature the keen competition that has always marked these events. Entries close tonight, and it is expected several pedal-pushers from out-of-town will be among the field.

Officials in charge of the race have completed all arrangements. The cooperation of the police of Greater Victoria has been secured, and the course will be kept well cleared for the competitors.

FINE PRIZES

As in former years many valuable prizes will be given away. To the rider making the fastest time over the course, irrespective of class, will go the handsome Colonist Cup.

The Francis Cup will be presented to the rider who cuts down last year's time by the greatest margin in class A or B, while a similar trophy donated by the Victoria Cycling Club will be given to the rider in class C, D or E, who beats last year's record for these classes.

Riders are divided into classes, carefully chosen in order that all may have a fair chance of winning a prize. A class is for riders over the age of sixteen, using racing bicycles. Class B is for those over sixteen using machines with tires not less than 1 inch and a quarter. Class C is for boys under sixteen; D class is for those under fourteen and class E for those under thirteen. The course is as follows: Starting at Quadra and Kings Road, via Hillside and Douglas Street to Glenford Avenue, along Glenford to the Saanich Health Centre and back to the starting point via Saanich Road and Quadra Street.

The race is scheduled to start at 7.30 o'clock, and officials reiterate the necessity for punctuality on the part of the riders. Class A will get away sharp at the half hour, and the other classes will follow at intervals of two minutes.

Every rider will be presented with a free ticket for a swim in the Crystal Garden immediately following the race, through the courtesy of Manager A. H. Cowlishaw. The facilities of the Y.M.C.A. lockers and showers has been offered out of town riders by Secretary P. Paulding.

MILKMAN WINS RING TOURNNEY

Babe Doucet Outlasts Twenty Battlers in Montreal "White Hope" Meet

Montreal, June 11.—Babe Doucet, a Drummondville, Que., milkman, outlasted twenty boxers yesterday evening to win Jack Dempsey's "White Hope" tournament. His decision was a hollow one however, as he won on a foul from Joseph Thibault, a husky-looking farmer from Fosse River, Alta.

Both fighters had little difficulty in the preliminary rounds. Thibault was a more experienced boxer and scored three clean knockouts in getting to the finals. Doucet won two of his fights by knockouts and a third on a decision.

The final bout was Thibault's most of the year and he had Doucet groggy early in the fight, but he continually fouled his smaller opponent and after numerous warnings from Referee Dempsey, he was disqualified in the third round.

Swimmers Worry Olympic Leaders

"No Contest" Says Dempsey

Montreal, June 11.—Jack Dempsey, the old Mangasa Mauler, came out with the prediction yesterday the heavyweight fight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling is "not going to be a contest."

In a luncheon address Dempsey said Louis should be able to make the round in which he will drop the German.

Dempsey also said he thought Tommy Loughran and Al McCoy were the greatest of the present day white heavyweights outside of champion Jimmy Braddock.

Members of Canadian Committee For Berlin Games Will Be Raised To Send Aquatic Stars to Europe; Track and Field Athletes Second-grade

By EMMER DULMAGE

Toronto, June 11.—One reason, and one is enough, why Canada will select the smallest Olympic track and field team since 1924 for the Berlin Games this summer is the second-grade quality of the known material. Optimism is not flourishing when there is nothing to be optimistic about.

Olympic committee headquarters here expect from fifteen to twenty men and women athletes will be named after the July trials at Montreal to represent the country in track and field.

On the home front, dominating what little show there was, were Sammy Richardson, young Toronto broad jumper and sprinter; Hank Clemens, Toronto, top-ranked walker on this continent, and Robert (Scotty) Rankine, Preston, Ont., a fine distance runner who aspires to be Olympic marathon champion.

These three huggled or broke records and no one else in the land produced anything calculated to buoy up hopes of the Olympic faithful.

The second-grade jumpers and weight men, third-rate runners and pretty girl athletes, who failed to break records or approach them at trials, will not be in Berlin. Several such people marked the Amsterdam scenery in 1928 and turned up in even greater numbers at Los Angeles in 1932.

If too-great emphasis was placed on track and field in the past, it will not be repeated this time. It appears probable that about five girl tracksters will be selected—four sprinters to make up a relay team and one other, probably a high jumper.

SIDNEY NINE LEADS RACE

Wins From Saanichton 15 to 10 to Take First Berth in B Section Softball

Sidney softballers hammered their way into top berth of the B section softball pennant race yesterday evening, when they downed the Saanichton nine 15 to 10. The Sidney squad came from behind in the ninth frame when they scored eight runs.

Saanichton ..... 000104221—10

Batteries—Byers and Echardt; Mitchell, Poulson, Turgoose and Stuggett.

The lowly Hollywood nine put up a strong fight against the Painters' Bruins, but failed to make the grade. Bruins won the match, which was played at Savory Park, 7 to 5. Lloyd Simpson pitched during the first part of the match, but he was replaced by his brother Bert, after allowing quite a number of bingles, which brought the Hollywood club four runs. Roy McLeellan operated on the mound for the losers for seven frames and was replaced after six men had come home for runs.

Score by innings:

Painters' Bruins ..... 000003301—7
Hollywood Club ..... 04000001—5

Batteries—L. Simpson, B. Simpson and Berry; McLeellan, Price and Fletcher.

Getting plenty of base knocks from the slants of Tommy Johnston and Sid Carr, in the seventh inning which netted them seven runs, Togo Cleaners defeated the Tigers 7 to 3. This was the only inning of the game in which the winners scored, but it was enough and carried them through to an easy win.

Score by innings:

Batteries—Westgate and Farrey; Johnston, Carr and Harris.

Pittsburgh and Chicago Continue To Climb In National League

Successive Wins Put Clubs Close Behind St. Louis

Pirates Sweep Four Games With Brooklyn; Cubs Take Third Position

BOSTON RED SOX WHIP DETROIT

Any way you look at it, the Bucking Buccaneers from Pittsburgh and the champion Cubs of Chicago seem to be the boys to supply whatever headaches come to Frankie Frisch and his St. Louis Cardinals in the National League baseball race.

They're chasing each other right up the ladder, resting in second and third place, respectively, today.

The Pirates drubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 6 to 3 yesterday for a clean sweep in their four-game series, and the Cubs took their third in a row from the Phillies, 4 to 3.

The westerner got most of the laughs by raining out half of the scheduled ball in each loop.

Their victories, along with the surprise walkout of Van Lingle Mungo, the Dodgers' number one speedball pitcher, from the Brooklyn's temporary camp in Pittsburgh, featured the shortened programme, in which Cleveland's 10 to 2 triumph over the Washington Senators, and the Boston Red Sox 4 to 3 win over Detroit, furnished the only other competition.

COAST LEAGUE

The Oakland baseball club celebrated Bill Meyer night by handing their quiet skipper a 9 to 0 victory and the Coast League leadership.

Jack La Rocca, whose fast ball looks like a pea, at night, set the Seattle Indians down with three hits, while the revamped Acorn lineup pounded Paul Gregory for twelve hits. La Rocca, who is so good after dark his owners, the New York Yankees stipulate he be used frequently in daytime contests, struck out nine Seattle batters.

Second division clubs also added to the happiness of manager Meyer by taking their second straight contests from the faltering Missions and Seals.

Los Angeles, with one foot in the cellar, knocked over the third-place Reds, 7 to 4, yesterday, and Seattle hit two home runs to lead Los Angeles fourteen hit attack.

The Seals played miserable baseball and San Diego won its second straight game in San Francisco 8 to 3.

Sacramento lost its sixth straight game as Portland knocked out a 6 to 3 victory at Sacramento. The Solons outthrew the Beavers, 11 to 10.

U.S. GOLFERS TAKE HONORS

Gene Kunes Leads Squad To Win Over Canadians in Daves Trophy Play

Fonthill, Ont., June 11.—The sub-par golf of Gene Kunes, Canadian open champion, was the big gun drawn up yesterday by the United States to win the Daves International Golf Trophy over the Lookout Point course.

The event preceded the seventy-two hole General Brock open tournament which started today.

The sharpshooting Pennsylvanian was the only man to get under par figures among the twenty-four players on the four teams. His sparkling 49 set the pace all the way and at the end the American team had an aggregate of 438, against the designated Canadian team's 446 total.

Kunes had to be good to hold off his Dayton, O., teammate, Ray Mangrum, who shot a par 70. The surprise of the American settee was the wobbly performance of Tony Manero, newly-crowned United States open champion, who rolled up a 77. Manero's weakness was his putting.

Lex Robson, Lambton, Ont., set the pace for the Canadian team. The Canadian professional champion shot 87-36-73.

Island Sportsmen Are After Changes

Delegates to Affiliated Fish and Game Associations of Vancouver Island Meeting at Nanaimo Draft Recommendations to Provincial Game Department; Want Hatcheries Reopened

Nanaimo, June 11.—Recommendations for open and closed seasons and bag limits for pheasants, quail, blue and willow grouse and partridges, for Vancouver Island, were made here yesterday evening at a meeting of the Affiliated Fish and Game Associations of Vancouver Island. President Tom Pitt, Duncan, was in the chair.

Following are the recommendations:

Blue grouse—September 12 to October 13, both dates inclusive, with a daily bag limit of six and twenty-five for the season.

Willow grouse—October 17 to October 31, both dates inclusive, with a six-bird daily limit, and a season's total of twenty-five.

Pheasants—October 17 to November 15, both dates inclusive. Four birds per day per person and twenty-five birds during the season constitute the bag limits.

The above resolutions will be forwarded to the Provincial Game Department for approval.

A committee of three, headed by Roger Montleith, president of the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association, was instructed to interview Hon. J. E. Michaud, Minister of Fisheries at Ottawa, on his arrival in Victoria shortly, to discuss the subject of having the federal hatcheries on Vancouver Island reopened, namely the Cowichan Lake hatchery and the Kennedy Lake hatchery, situated on the west coast.

WANT HATCHERIES REOPENED

Delegates stressed the necessity of maintaining the good standard of sport fishing on Vancouver Island from a tourist standpoint. At present, with the federal hatcheries closed, fish propagation work has been postponed, and if not resumed in the near future will be detrimental to sport fishing, they contended.

It was made known at the meeting that a number of the affiliated associations on the island had sent correspondence to Ottawa protesting the closing down of British Columbia hatcheries, which occurred April 1 of this year.

The following resolution was passed unanimously: "This association is not satisfied with conditions under which fish culture is being carried in the province of British Columbia and goes on record as being in favor of a change in the fish culture branch of the British Columbia Fish and Game Commission, and that the present head be replaced by a man more scientifically versed in matters pertaining to fish."

A committee will be struck to look into the matter.

The discharge of C. R. Purvey, federal patrol warden for Saanich Inlet, will strongly be protested by the affiliated associations.

Inspector J. G. Cunningham of the Provincial Game Board attended the meeting.

Delegates from the Victoria Fish and Game Association, Victoria Salmon Inlet Anglers, Victoria Jun-Dog Club, Nanaimo, Cumberland, Cowi-

NEW GIANT

Insurance at third base, in case Travis Jackson's knees fold up on him again, was purchased by the New York Giants from Baltimore in the person of Eddie Mayo, shown above in action, and close-up. Mayo smacked twenty-five home runs in the International League last season. Heine Groh, who used to play considerable third base himself, scouted the youngster, and labeled him a brilliant prospect.

Duke Talks With Selassie in London

London, June 11.—The Duke of Gloucester, the King's brother, paid a "strictly private" visit to Emperor Haile Selassie yesterday evening.

Court circles emphasized the Duke did not visit the Negus as a representative of the King, but merely renewed the acquaintance established several years ago. Some political quarters wondered whether tacit recognition by Britain of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia was to be inferred from a court circular announcing the visit.

chan and Alberni were present at the meeting, and issues confronting the delegates were given a thorough airing before being voted on.

VAN MUNGO WALKS OUT

Star Pitcher of Brooklyn Dodgers Dissatisfied; Wants to Be Traded

New York, June 11.—Van Mungo, star Brooklyn pitcher who went on strike yesterday and quit the Dodgers cold in Pittsburgh, said today he would not don a Dodger uniform again "unless they treat me right."

"I haven't been getting the right kind of support from the team or the proper treatment from the club, and the truth of the matter is I want to be traded," said the fireball right-handed hurler.

When Mungo failed to report to the Dodgers' dressing room at Forbes field, Pittsburgh, yesterday, John Gorman, business manager of the club, indicated Mungo would be fined or suspended or both.

Mungo is one of the most sought after twirlers in the National League.

THE BIG SIX

The line-up of baseball's "big six" in batting remains the same through yesterday's curtailed major league programme, with only the average of Charley Gehrig of the Tigers showing any change.

Gehrig, second in the American League trio in the leading half-dozen, got only one hit in four times at bat, losing two points to lower his mark to .265, but still managed to stay one percentage point above third-place Lou Gehrig of the Yankees.

The standing (three leading hitters in each league):

British Favored To Take Tennis

Picked to Defeat United States Women in Annual Wightman Cup International Series Which Opens Tomorrow on Wimbledon Courts

London, June 11.—Battle lines for the fourteenth Wightman Cup international tennis series between British and United States women stars were drawn yesterday and immediately experts decided Britain's chances of ending America's five-year supremacy were unusually bright.

The best four-matches-out-of-seven series will start tomorrow, with Helen Jacobs, four-times United States champion, opposing Kay Stammers, left-handed British star; Mrs. Sarah Falfrey Fabyan of Brooklyn, Mass., meeting Dorothy Round, former Wimbledon titlist, and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles, teaming up in the doubles against Nancy Lyle and Evelyn Dearman.

Saturday's concluding schedule: Mrs. Fabyan vs. Miss Stammers, Miss Jacobs vs. Miss Round; Miss Babcock vs. Ruth Mary Hardwick, and Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Fabyan vs. Miss Stammers and Freda James.

Dan Maskell, prominent professional at Wimbledon, where the annual series will be played, picked the English team to win by the score of 4 to 3, while one of England's biggest bookmakers offered 5 to 4 against the Americans.

"I think Miss Stammers will beat Miss Jacobs on Friday," said Maskell. "Helen seems to have lost some of the fire she used to have."

The fact that Miss Stammers defeated Miss Jacobs in three sets on foreign soil last year, and this time will be playing on home ground, was regarded as the basis for his prediction.

U.S. TO SEND BIGGEST TEAM

Will Be Represented By 395 Athletes at Berlin Olympic Games

New York, June 11.—The United States will be represented by the largest team in its history at the Berlin Olympic Games. It became known today with the dispatching of the complete entry by Frederick W. Rubien, secretary of the American Olympic Committee.

The country's colors will be carried by 395 athletes—342 men and 53 women—who will compete in 114 events. The previous all-time high for the United States was at Los Angeles four years ago, when 378 team members were listed.

Track and field will have by far the largest representatives, sixty-eight men and seventeen women, having been registered for twenty-nine events. Swimming ranks second with forty-eight men and eighteen women, while there will be thirty-one participants in the rowing contests, twenty-four in yachting—seven of them women—twenty in baseball and eighteen men and three women in fencing.

The only Olympic sports in which the United States will not have entries are Greco-Roman wrestling, polo and rifle shooting.

Who's Who At Hotels

Trees were the first thing that Miss Wanda Clayworth of San Francisco looked at when she landed in Victoria yesterday. She has a professional interest in them, being in the office of the United States forestry service. The chief thing that she noticed about the trees of the lower end of this island was their number.

Apart from that she found Victoria not so different from her home town. Interviewed at the Empress Hotel this morning, Miss Clayworth said: "The climate here seems to be similar to San Francisco—that is my only disappointment. The rain followed me everywhere on this trip. Your city seems quieter, and I like that."

Miss Clayworth came up to Seattle on the S. H. F. Alexander. She will sail for home Saturday night on the Emma Alexander. This is her first visit to Canada.

Two energetic young ladies from Hollywood left the Empress Hotel yesterday after a very short stay in the city. They were the Misses Dorothy Wharton and Lynne Howe, respectively publicity writer and social director of the Knickerbocker Hotel. It was their first visit to Victoria, and they liked the city in spite of the rain.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Bunker of Ottawa were among today's arrivals at the Empress Hotel. It is Mrs. Bunker's first visit to Victoria, although her husband, who is here on business, has known the city on several previous occasions.

Also from Ottawa at the Empress is T. J. Leonard, official of the Metropolitan Life Assurance Company, who is making a survey of conditions in his business in western Canada.

Other Canadians from the east and the prairies who are registered at the Empress at present are F. G. Bannister and F. G. Maxwell, Winnipeg; C. P. Brown, Peterboro, Ont.; and C. A. Gallagher, Winnipeg.

Making her first acquaintance with Victoria, Miss J. G. Rudd is a visitor from Rhodesia at present. Miss Rudd is at the Empress and plans to remain another two days here.

Visitors from one city noted for its gardens to another, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Meade are registered at the Empress today from Petaluma, Cal. Petaluma in the San Francisco district, is famed all over the United States for the number of garden lovers who make their home there.

Other Californians who arrived at the Empress yesterday morning were C. Homer Redd, Los Angeles; Mrs. C. A. McNamee, Palo Alto; Mr. and Mrs. Stockton Vessey, Los Angeles; W. W. Carson and M. S. Haley, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Peebles, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hunter and their daughter, Hillsborough; and Mrs. R. A. Crooks, Los Angeles.

Once again the Empress visitors' list includes names from almost every quarter of the United States. Today they include Mr. and Mrs. Irving Deakins, Madison, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Williams, Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ulrich, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Pearce Shepherd, East Orange, N.J.; and B. M. Day, New York City.

A young professor of history at Syracuse University, New York, and his bride are spending their honeymoon on Vancouver Island, and finding Victoria and the neighborhood very much to their liking. They are Professor and Mrs. Warren B. Walsh, who are staying at the Beach Hotel. They expect to stay on the island for some time. Although their first view of Victoria was in the rain, they are delighted with the city.

"We are absolutely thrilled with the island, and next time we are coming straight here without stopping off on the way," said Mrs. K. W. Hayes of Oakland, California, who is staying at the Beach Hotel at present with her daughter.

Californians occupy a good proportion of the visitors' list at the Glenahol Hotel at present. Recent arrivals include Mrs. B. B. Cumming, Santa Cruz; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Stevens, Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Carpenter, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Perry, Hollywood; and A. C. J. Farrel Ojal.

Two ladies from San Francisco have joined the several Californians staying at the Windermere Hotel. They are Mrs. A. Sellick and Mrs. A. P. Carter.

Californians at the Dominion Hotel today include Mr. and Mrs. Charles Off Jr., Los Angeles; the Misses Dora E. Thompson and Lucie Zurcher, San Francisco; and Mrs. Charles W. Green, Miss M. Alice Miller and Robert M. Green, San Francisco.

Other United States people at the Dominion are Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Arnold, Salem, Ore.; Mrs. J. M. Fisher and Mrs. Patsy Walker, Weiser, Idaho; the Misses Margaret Linn, Judith Krueger and Lois Simpson, Pullman, Wash.

Miss Edna Nielson of Calgary is among Canadians staying at the Dominion.

The Strathcona Hotel is the headquarters of a number of United States visitors at present. Yesterday afternoon's arrivals included Mrs. Robert Smith, Lake Grove, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Archbold, Berkeley, Cal.; and Mr. Pantzer, New York City.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS PLANS

Directors' Report and Suggestions For Year Received at Luncheon

Members of the Rotary Club looked back over the last year's work and forward to the new at their luncheon at the Empress Hotel today, hearing the annual report of the board of directors and announcements of plans from the chairman of the club's major committees.

The annual report, which was submitted by T. P. McConnell, secretary of the club, pointed to a membership higher by one than at the beginning of the club year. At June 1, 1935, the membership stood at ninety-one. During the year eight members retired and nine joined.

The report pointed to a gain of $192.10 in the cash assets of the club, bringing the total to $1,518.63. Special mention was made of the annual seed-growing contest sponsored by the club in which some thirty boys and girls took part, and of the work of the boys' work committee, under the chairmanship of Arthur P. Deane, with between seventy and eighty underprivileged boys enrolled in a group under the charge of Frank M. Shandley.

The report also referred to the speeches and entertainment features presented at the club's weekly luncheons, to the activities of the Rotary softball team, and to the work of the Rotary orchestra.

COMMITTEE PLANS
G. Hamilton Harman reported for the club service committee, saying that the majority of the work of the coming year would fall on the shoulders of the chairman of subcommittees.

Possible projects for the next twelve months were put forward by J. V. Johnson, speaking as chairman of the community service committee. Suggestions received by the committee had included help in obtaining a road to the top of Mount Douglas, the formation of a botanical garden, the cleaning up of beaches during the summer months, the erection of an auditorium and ice rink, and a contribution towards the completion of Memorial Avenue.

Sam Armstrong outlined the objects of the vocational service committee, saying that its work was little understood by the general membership of the club.

A letter from Percy B. Fowler, chairman of the international service committee, suggested that an employee relations subcommittee be added to those already existing on United States relations and overseas relations.

Pat Malone, on behalf of the program committee, asked for suggestions and criticism of the arrangements for luncheons.

Frank Shandley outlined possible plans for the boys' work committee. They included a summer picnic for underprivileged boys and a Vancouver Island marbles tournament to be staged in conjunction with the Duncan and Nanaimo clubs.

Frank Schell paid tribute to Mr. Shandley's work among the children of the city.

Vivian Smecker, boys' work director of the Y.M.C.A., attended the meeting, and details of the "Y" camp at Glinz Lake were outlined by W. A. Jameson.

Frank Doherty, president, announced plans for a superfluity sale in the fall.

Frank Schell led the club in community singing.

Ursus Kermodei, the one and only captive bear in Beacon Hill Park and the only specimen of his kind in any park in the world, today appeared headed for a local controversy of dimensions similar to those which used to be waged around her.

Scores of letters were once written to newspapers for and against the incarceration of Ursus.

Yesterday, officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—called upon Mayor David Leeming and advocated larger quarters for Ursus. The mayor referred them to the parks committee chairman, Alderman James Adam.

"What do they want to worry about little Ursus for?" the mayor queried. "She's probably one of the happiest fellows in Victoria. No work, no worries, no taxes and three or as many meals a day as she wants."

HALF-HOLIDAY ISSUE RAISED
Merchants Who Opened Stores For Bankers May Be Prosecuted

Action of a number of city merchants keeping their establishments open during the Wednesday half holiday yesterday to accommodate some 1,200 bankers who were here for the day, may be the source of prosecution by city police, it was stated today.

Police have not made any decision on the matter today, Chief Heatley announcing he would decide whether there was sufficient evidence to proceed with the case or not.

Police were brought into the case with complaints from several persons who informed them that certain clothing and other stores were open on the holiday.

While realizing the value of the tourist trade to these establishments and the fact that the visit presented a revenue-producing opportunity to them, Chief Heatley stated the course the merchants should take should be to attempt to have the by-laws altered if they desire to continue this action during the summer.

Failure to have these changes made places the onus with the police who must adhere to provisions of the by-laws when they can secure evidence for convictions, he said.

This instance may prove to be the basis for the opening of the whole half-holiday situation, it was learned from local merchants.

Under the provisions of hours of work legislation they can only work their employees so many hours a week and they believe by rearranging their staffs they could keep their stores open all day for six days during the summer months for the accommodation of tourists, and still not violate provincial legislation.

THEFT HEARING CONTINUING

Defence evidence was given before Judge P. S. Langman in County Court today in the trial of P. J. H. Van Oudenol and J. M. Potter, charged with the theft of $400 and five other charges of similar nature.

Evidence for the prosecution closed shortly after 11 o'clock and J. M. Potter took the stand.

Potter traced the various steps leading up to final negotiations between himself, Van Oudenol and Charles Desford for the financing and operation of the Sooke Harbor mill and its reorganization as a new company.

All payments made to himself and Van Oudenol, and receipts for "entertaining," were given willingly by Mr. Desford, the accused said. In effect, he added, the funds were the only income he and Van Oudenol had received during February, March and April, and had been used to meet office expenses and incidentals and to support himself and family, as well as Van Oudenol.

Potter sketched trips made to Vancouver and said arrangements had finally been made whereby a big Vancouver exporting firm had guaranteed to buy the entire cut of the Sooke mill as soon as it operated.

Delayed orders for lumber, he claimed, had been received by himself and Van Oudenol from that company on May 9. Mr. Desford had been at the mill and had indicated his intention of coming to town, Potter testified. Mr. Desford had come to town on May 11, but had not called in at the office. On May 13 he and Van Oudenol had been arrested.

REPRIEVE GRANTED
Fredericton, N.B., June 11 (Canadian Press).—Arthur Bannister, under sentence to be hanged June 20 for the murder last January of Philip Lake at Pacific Junction, was granted a reprieve until August 20 today at a hearing before Chief Justice J. H. Barry. Bannister's counsel, Murray Lambert, contended Arthur would be necessary as a witness at the second trial of his brother, Daniel, who had been condemned to die for the same crime.

Ursus Kermodei Debate Subject
White Bear Needs More Room, S.P.C.A. Officials Claim; Mayor Says Ursus Is Fine

Ursus Kermodei, the one and only captive bear in Beacon Hill Park and the only specimen of his kind in any park in the world, today appeared headed for a local controversy of dimensions similar to those which used to be waged around her.

Scores of letters were once written to newspapers for and against the incarceration of Ursus.

Yesterday, officials of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals—called upon Mayor David Leeming and advocated larger quarters for Ursus. The mayor referred them to the parks committee chairman, Alderman James Adam.

"What do they want to worry about little Ursus for?" the mayor queried. "She's probably one of the happiest fellows in Victoria. No work, no worries, no taxes and three or as many meals a day as she wants."

Frank Schell led the club in community singing.

Crime in parts of New Zealand where intoxicating liquor is outlawed is but a fraction of that in districts possessing bars, J. Malton Murray, touring the world on a study of liquor control, said in a talk at Metropolitan Institute Tuesday evening. Mr. Murray told of temperance campaigns in New Zealand and showed colored slides of the Maoris and their surroundings.

Mystery Story At the Atlas

"Muss 'em Up" Is Title of New Picture, Showing With "Orders Is Orders"

Striking out along entirely new lines in the treatment of mystery stories, Preston Foster's latest vehicle, "Muss 'em Up," proves to be a personal triumph for the RKO Radio player as well as a grand piece of screen entertainment. Margaret Callahan, playing opposite him, is featured today. This unique offering affords a brilliant illustration of the methods by which genuine detectives (not the usual omni-potent film variety) solve their problems.

Realism is the keynote. Foster's portrayal of the hard-boiled, cocky private investigator is an exceptionally fine bit of histrionics. The customary carelessness of the criminal in leaving carloads of "clues" about the premises for the detective to stumble over, is quite lacking in this story. Foster must act his results through logic and deduction from the established facts - a real novelty in film mystery tales. Also being shown in the second feature are Charlotte Greenwood and James Gleason in "Orders Is Orders."

Fine Cast At Plaza Theatre

With Harry Richman, Rochelle Hudson, Michael Bartlett and Walter Connolly holding down the principal roles and Ed. Parley and Mike Riley, composers of "The Music Goes Round and Around," Columbia's new musical film, "The Music Goes Round," opened at the Plaza Theatre today.

Harry Richman is a welcome addition to film ranks. He is a born entertainer, an engaging personality, and gives a song everything it deserves. Miss Hudson is well cast opposite him. She is a live and piquant little lady with plenty of talent. Connolly, naturally, is outstanding. He has given so many excellent performances, that anything less than perfection from him would be a disappointment.

Supporting the principals is an exceptional cast. Douglas Dumbrille, Lionel Stander, Henry Mollison and Etienne Girardot especially shine. Victor Schertzinger directed without missing a trick.

Also being shown as the second feature "The Law in Her Hands," with Margaret Glendon, Lindsay Farrell, Lyle Talbot.

Russian Film Opens Monday

The Russian film industry's newest drama, "Chapayev," or "The Commander," will open at the Columbia Theatre on Monday.

It is a vigorous, richly-humorous and heroic account of the adventures of one of their greatest partisan leaders in the bitter Russian civil war of 1918. Based pretty much on the formula of a hard-riding, hard-fighting wild western melodrama, the new photoplay adds a certain air of smiling urbanity to the work that is customary on the Muscovite screen and it emerges as not only a distinguished offering but an entertaining one.

"These Three" To Be Here Tomorrow

The "boss" on the set during the shooting of "These Three," which comes to the Capitol Theatre tomorrow, was neither Producer Samuel Goldwyn, Director William Wyler, nor Miriam Hopkins, Merle Oberon or Joel McCrea, the stars of the film. The "boss" was none other than

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX--The girl I would like to marry must be physically attractive. She must have a charming personality. She must be intelligent. She must have common sense. She must have a sense of humor and be fun-loving. She must be domestic. But where am I going to meet such a girl? That's the rub.

There may be thousands of such fine young women, but of what help is that to me if they cannot be met? And what good does it do them to know that the type of fellow they want is near if they cannot find him? Probably it is true that this type of girl is at home most of the time, but how can I find that home, or how gain admittance if I did? Parties and dances do little good to the girls who are not asked, and the girl who is asked owes her escort the right to her company and the obligation of not prowling around for new acquaintances.

Everywhere, in restaurants, in offices and on the street one sees many such girls, but what can one do--shall I speak? She would probably call an officer. Suppose she is lonesome and takes a chance? Like any other conventional citizen, I might well be suspicious if she did. Only those with little to lose and much to gain take long chances.

Our social codes, in so far as they relate to introductions and acquaintances, were designed for simple and small communities where everyone grew up, knowing every one else. By simple propinquity, matches and marriages were made. But today, if we live in cities, there is no community life and the family across the street are as much strangers as if they lived in another land. This makes it very difficult for young people of the opposite sex to meet under suitable conditions and is a source of great danger, for if one cannot get what he wants in a mate he is likely to take what he can get.

It is very discouraging to feel that, though you know just what you want and though you know it exists, there is nothing you can do to help yourself, but must depend on sheer fortuity.

Answer--This exceedingly interesting letter presents a problem with which both the church and the social agencies have grappled with but poor success. For the cities are filled with fine young people who have come from communities in which they knew everybody and in which they were the life of every party. They are dying of lonesomeness and the desire to meet other girls and boys of their own kind and to have some of the clean fun to which they have been accustomed. Nobody seems able to devise a way in which this can be properly done. And so the youngsters who might be friends, who might be the ideal that each seeks, pass each other by like ships in the night without ever being able to give a hail.

Very often, as George says, propinquity does its deadly work, and just because a young man does not know where to look for his dream girl he gives up a quest that he thinks is hopeless and marries some second-rate girl with whom he is thrown and with whom he lives unhappily ever after.

Worse still is it for the girl who has no way of meeting the boys that she should know and of having some of the innocent pleasures to which she is entitled. Weary of her bare hall bedroom, bored to death with nothing to do, longing for some excitement to break the monotony of her waiting life, such a girl is often the easy victim of an evil man or woman who offers her an automobile ride or a dinner or a dance. The Chief of Police of a great city once told me that lonesomeness caused the downfall of more girls than anything else.

But this does not answer my correspondent's question of how, in a world full of girls, he is to find the particular girl that he desires and who has the qualifications that he wants in a wife and, also, neither I nor anyone else can tell him down what road to ride on his search, or on what does to knock.

Certainly there are plenty of such girls as he desires for a wife--good-looking, charming, domestic girls who would be real helpmates to any man, girls who are eager to marry and have a little chance of finding Mr. Right as he has finding them. They are waiting while he passes by on the other side of the street.

In spite of all our boasts about being the masters of our fates, much in life is a matter of chance, and whether we ever find our affinities or not lies on the laps of the gods. We go to a party and meet the man of the girl, or we stay at home and miss him or her. The girl who waits at the desk next to ours has all the qualities we desire in a wife and we never find it out. Or we discover our mate in Timbuktu. It is all a matter of pure luck.

How a man is to go about meeting the girl he wants to marry, no one can say. The only suggestion I can make is that he meet as many girls as possible on the chance that among the number he will find the jewel that he is seeking.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX--My wife and I have been married fifteen years. She has worked very hard with me in my business and as a housewife. We have a daughter twelve years old and my wife often says that if it wasn't for her she would have left long ago, and that we were meant for each other, as our ideas of life are so different. She likes to be well dressed and to go to parties and shows. I love the outdoors, hunting and fishing. As we do not agree we have hit on this plan: We're dividing our savings and I am going to board with her and also pay her a salary, as she is still going to help with the business. We are not going to get a divorce, but while we live under the same roof we are both going to do as we please and make no claim upon the other. What do you think of this plan? MR. X.

Answer--Fine, and a great improvement on divorce if you will live up to it and really give each other the personal liberty you would strangers.

Evidently the trouble between you and your wife is that each wants to make the other do his or her way. You want to make your wife go fishing and she wants to make you go to the movies, hence your quarrel. Once you have made up your mind that she can spend her time in the beauty shops instead of the great outdoors, and she concedes you the right to spend your money on fancy fishing tackle instead of parlor curtains, you will be able to get along peacefully together.

Anyway, your plan keeps a home for your daughter and gives her two parents instead of one, and that's the big idea in your turning star boarder instead of becoming ex-husband. DOROTHY DIX. (Copyright, 1936)

Uncle Wiggily and the Sand Pile

By HOWARD R. GARRIS

It was very early in the morning. That is, not early for millmen, who bring the milk almost as soon as the sun rises so you may have it in time for your breakfast, but it was early for Uncle Wiggily to be up. And he wasn't up, either. He was fast asleep in his bed in the hollow stump bungalow. All of a sudden he awoke, because a peculiar tapping was going on just outside his window. "Now, what can that be?" he wondered. "A woodpecker? It sounds like one. Maybe a hungry woodpecker, I guess I'll see." So he looked out of the window, to the right and left, and straight ahead, but not a woodpecker was in sight. "The rabbit gentleman grumbled. 'Maybe I imagined it. I'll go back to bed again and get a little more sleep.' But no sooner had he gotten in bed than 'tap, tap!' the noise started once more. "That is not imagination," Uncle Wiggily said. "Some one certainly is tapping. This time I'll find out." Instead of looking out of the window, he reached carefully to the front door, and pulled it open quickly, and what do you think? There were Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the dog brothers, looking peevish as Uncle Wiggily's window. "Oh, hi!" the young man shouted. "So you thought you'd pay a trick on me, did you? Well, well--trying to fool Uncle Wiggily! But what are you two doing up so early?" WANTED TO GO ADVENTURING "We want you to come adventuring with us," Peetie answered, and he laughed happily, for he knew Uncle Wiggily wasn't really sleepy. "Adventuring, eh?" and Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose excitedly. "It does seem like a day for adventure, doesn't it? Now I'll tell you what, Jackie and Peetie. You come in and have breakfast with me. Then we'll see what happens after that!" The two puppy boys didn't say no, you may be sure, for even though they had eaten breakfast before they left home, they were hungry again. Boys are like that, you know. And after they had eaten all they wished, the three friends started off through the woods adventuring. "I know where a new house is being built," Jackie said. "A real house, where real people are going to live. But it's so early now that the workers won't be there yet. Shall we go and investigate that?" "A good idea," Uncle Wiggily agreed. "I see you've learned a few things. Investigate, eh? What does it mean?" "Why, go--to a sort of look, and find out about!" Jackie replied proudly. "Isn't that right, Uncle Wiggily?" "Exactly," said the rabbit gentleman. "Lead on, boys." In a short time they arrived at the house. It was only partly finished, and at the front was a great pile of sand, and the workers used to mix the mortar, to keep the bricks in place. Mortar is something like glue, you know, but much stronger and harder, and it makes the bricks stick together. SUGGESTS SAND VILLAGE "Hurrah!" Peetie cried. "Now we can have fun! We'll build a sand village! May we, Uncle Wiggily?" "Well, I guess you may," the rabbit gentleman replied. "But don't realize the sand all around for the workers, will have to sweep it all up again if you do. What?" "Why, go--to a sort of look, and find out about!" Jackie replied proudly.
